Kansas City, MO - Precision Auto Sales & Service, a premier car shop in Kansas City, is delighted to announce the expansion of their service offerings to include diesel engine repair and maintenance. This new addition is part of the company's ongoing commitment to meet the diverse needs of Kansas City's drivers and car owners.

With the inclusion of diesel engine repair and maintenance, Precision Service KC is now equipped to service a broader range of vehicles. Whether it's a personal car, a family SUV, a fleet of commercial vehicles, or a heavy-duty truck, Precision Service KC is ready to provide its hallmark high-quality service to all.

"Diesel engines require specialized knowledge and tools for proper servicing, and we're proud to bring this expertise to our customers," said Michael Lagas, owner of Precision Auto Sales & Service. "We've invested in advanced diagnostic equipment and continuous training for our technicians to ensure we provide the most reliable diesel engine services in Kansas City."

The newly launched service will include a comprehensive range of diesel engine-related services, including routine maintenance, performance checks, engine diagnostics, fuel system repairs, and more. Precision Auto Sales & Service's team of certified diesel technicians will ensure that vehicles are running at their best, providing peace of mind to vehicle owners and operators.

"With the addition of diesel engine repair and maintenance services, we continue our commitment to being a one-stop-shop for all automotive needs in Kansas City," added Smith. "We look forward to serving our customers with the same dedication and professionalism that have made us a trusted name in auto repair services."
