December 11, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Formicarium, a business in Sandvika, Norway, has been launched to provide SEO services. It is designed to deliver on all the aspects require to grow a healthy and flourishing online presence. The company focuses on using tactics and methods that provide long term results and has already started receiving very positive reviews.

"We consider inorganic traffic (AdWords) short term and take pride in making all the actions needed to reach the top page organically (SERP). We are building a natural and relevant backlinking profile to boost trust and visibility via search optimised press releases, on page SEO and social media video marketing," says Magnus Aslak Jordfald from the SEO Norway company.

To achieve the said goals, Formicarium uses optimized press releases, on page search engine optimization and social media video marketing. These services have been found to be the most important in terms of having long term visibility results. They also offer highly localized services, such as SEO Oslo services, thereby targeting specific geographical markets.

Clients that have already worked with Formicarium have been full of praise about the results that they have achieved with their SEO efforts. "The packages offered by Formicarium are fantastic and offer great value for money," says Olaf H. "I was skeptical at first, because I thought paid advertising was the be all and end all of having a website found, but they proved me wrong big time. I'm so happy to have found this company and to have given them the opportunity to focus on my website's SEO processes, because it has made a tremendous difference to my overall conversion rates and, obviously, my profits."

The SEO Norge company is looking forward to increasing its customer database and delivering more high quality work. They offer a number of different SEO packages to their clients, as they do not believe in one size fits all solutions. Rather, they focus on the current position of their client's website, offering out of the box solutions to improve this position. They also encourage everybody to give them a 'Like' on Facebook in order to be kept up to date with industry news.
