Classical Herbs and Acupuncture, Inc., based in Florida, is proud to announce that the company has become so successful that they have redesigned and relaunched their website so that it is mobile responsive. "The website will make it easier for visitors to learn about Classical Herbs and Acupuncture, Inc. and the services that we offer on the mobile devices that are so common today," said Acupuncturist Carolyn Cook.

She has been in private practice for 20 years in the Miami/Kendall area. There have been many forks in her road but it has been an interesting and complex journey that has enabled her to build on her love of Chinese herbs & medicine.

Ms. Cook's first exposure to Asian culture was during her teen years when her father, a military man, moved the family to Taiwan and Japan. An acquaintance, an old Chinese woman, helped her one day by treating her with folk medicine for a bad headache. To Carolyn's surprise, relief and curiosity, it worked. She believes her young life spent in the oriental culture subtly set the stage for her future interests.

On the testimonials page, customers like Amanda K. have written about their experiences with Classical Herbs and Acupuncture, Inc. ?I decided to try an alternative approach to my health after going through a third round of antibiotics to combat a recurring infection. I had heard the many benefits that Chinese medicine had in treating health issues with the use of herbs and acupuncture. I was referred to Dr. Carolyn Cook at Classical Herbs and Acupuncture in South Miami.?

?Carolyn is a very knowledge practitioner in this area. After going over my medical history she took my pulse and recommended the treatment I needed. My infection was gone within a month of taking the herbal prescription 3 times a day combined with acupuncture sessions. This was confirmed with traditional medicine testing. My energy level is improving every day and I feel healthier than I have in many years.?

People interested in learning more can visit the newly revamped website to learn more. Classical Herbs and Acupuncture, Inc. is the practice of Herbalist and Acupuncturist Carolyn Cook. She is a doctor of Chinese medicine, acupuncture physician and a licensed massage therapist in Miami, Florida.
