Off-Island Dental is committed to helping patients regain their healthy, radiant smiles.

Dr. Michael D. Langehans, DMD, and his team at Off-Island Dental Care are confident in their skills to eliminate the chalky patches on teeth caused by enamel microabrasion. Smoking, specific medical conditions, or acid bring on enamel microabrasions. Nonetheless, enamel microabrasion is not terminal. With the help of Off-Island Dental, patients can restore their natural smiles.

Enamel microabrasion can be treated using dental microabrasion. Off-Island Dental's Microabrasion for Teeth procedure for fixing stained teeth is a gentle, non-invasive option. Once bleaching has been tried and proven ineffective, dental microabrasion is often suggested as the next step. Teeth discoloration from stains is usually limited to the enamel layer.

Dental microabrasion teeth involve using a textured polisher and a mildly acidic substance to remove stains from teeth by a dentist. The procedure is repeated several times, each taking around 10 seconds. In extreme cases, veneers or crowns may be used to improve the appearance of teeth.

Off-Island Dental care experts provide various procedures to bring out their patients' natural smiles. The Best General Dentist can meet all your dental care needs, from routine cleanings to restorations. Services like these help people maintain good oral hygiene and get more out of their grins.

Besides dental microabrasion, veneers and clear removable braces are all available at Off-Island Dental. They also offer specialized dental care, such as crown and bridge work, implants, endodontic treatment, oral surgery, cleanings, and gum disease and tooth decay treatments. This dental clinic serves the communities of Bluffton, Hilton Head Island, Okatie, and the rest of South Carolina.

The Dental Discount Plan is another way that patients of Off-Island Dental can save money on their services. The plan covers preventative dental care, including cleanings, for $5.00 per visit and provides a discount of 20% on most other dental services. Dental checkups and radiographs are a part of the plan as well. One year of membership begins on the date of service and payment. The bundle is available as either an individual or family membership.
