Chairforce, a leading provider of quality furniture in Australia, is pleased to share valuable maintenance tips for the popular Wishbone Chair. As a trusted source for furniture expertise, Chairforce aims to assist customers in ensuring the longevity and durability of their cherished pieces.

The spokesperson of Chairforce remarked, "Chairforce recognises that wishbone chairs are among the most sought-after items, and guarantee that the clients can relish them for an extended duration. The maintenance guidelines are effortless and straightforward to implement, and they will assist in maintaining the pristine appearance of the wishbone chairs."

The first maintenance tip provided by Chairforce relates to the cleaning of the paper cord seat of the wishbone chair - chairforce.com.au/product-category/wishbone-chair/. According to the company, the paper cord seat usually requires little maintenance. However, if customers wish to clean the seat, they should wipe it with a tightly wrung soft cloth with a neutral colourless soap solution. Any spills should be wiped up immediately, and the seat should be dried with a clean cloth. To remove dust from the seat, a handheld vacuum with a soft brush attachment should be used.

In addition, the spokesperson cautioned against placing wooden furniture, particularly wishbone chairs, in direct sunlight, heat, or cooling sources for extended periods. This can cause the furniture to desiccate, contort, or fracture. He advised rotating the furniture regularly to prevent disproportionate fading on one side.

Regarding the maintenance of the rope seats, the spokesperson warned against standing or kneeling on the rattan seats, as this can cause excessive strain on the base of the chair and cause it to split or warp. Furthermore, any spills on the rope seat should be cleaned up immediately.

Chairforce is committed to providing its customers with high-quality furniture that is not only aesthetically pleasing, but also durable. The company's maintenance tips for wishbone chairs are part of its efforts to ensure that its customers can enjoy their furniture for many years to come.

"The team understands that furniture is an investment, and wants customers to get the most out of their investment. By following the maintenance tips, customers can extend the life of their wishbone chairs and keep them looking beautiful," said the spokesperson.
