A DUI conviction comes with certain mandatory penalties that can affect an individual in a number of ways. Beyond the embarrassment, a DUI conviction can mean jail time, fines or the loss of driving privileges. First time offenders may face up to 90 days in jail, $1,000 in fines and a six month driver's license suspension. Additionally, after having their license restored, the person convicted may be required to carry SR-22 high risk auto insurance for at least three full years.

Those convicted for the second time in 10 years tend to face more severe punishments, including the installation of an Ignition Interlock Device on their vehicle. This is why many people choose to work with the best DUI attorney they can find.

There are a number of reasons why Isle Palms residents choose to work with Scott E. Kegel when it comes to DUI cases. To begin with, the DUI attorney is among the most knowledgeable in the area. Knowledge is one of the factors that differentiates a good attorney from a bad one, and Scott E. Kegel is one of the few lawyers that a client can always trust to know all there is to know about the areas of practice in which he specializes. With nearly 30 years of experience, Kegel has worked in virtually every situation imaginable, and he uses this experience to fight for a favorable outcome in every DUI case he takes on.

A personable, communicative lawyer is, for many, an absolute pleasure to work with. As a result, Scott E. Kegel strives to be as personable as possible, and both the lawyer and the firm have done a lot to ensure direct and transparent communication between attorney and client at all times. The small office puts all calls from clients through directly to Scott E. Kegel himself. From there, the attorney listens closely to the client in order to understand their situation and come up with an effective plan of action that is guaranteed to produce the most favorable outcome. "If you've been arrested for drunk driving, you need a qualified and experienced Charleston DUI lawyer in your corner to make sure your rights are protected," says Scott E. Kegel. "You also need a lawyer with a thorough knowledge of the complexities of DUI law in South Carolina to fight for you. At Scott E. Kegel Law Offices, I incorporate an aggressive approach to legal defense and have helped numerous DUI clients keep their freedom and driver's licenses. With more than 27 years of legal experience, I will aggressively defend your legal rights and do whatever I can to minimize the penalties a DWI conviction can incur."

Fighting a DUI charge is often a fairly complicated process, which is why having the best possible attorney fighting on the vulnerable individual's behalf is so important. Many of Scott E. Kegel's clients have found themselves highly impressed with the lawyer's services, which prompted them to leave reviews of the firm online.

In one such review, Avis G. says, "I have enjoyed being served by Scott. It was easy. I went into his office and explained everything to him, and he ran with it. He was very patient with me during my process. Whenever every I texted him a question, he responded quickly and professionally. I want to say, whenever you're in an accident, give him a call. He did my paperwork, I didn't have to do my own running around. He was reasonable and didn't overcharge me or ask for any extra expense. I truly appreciate all that was done on my behalf. Thanks again."
