Mighty Dog Roofing of Northwest Boston is locally owned and operated by Vish Mazumder and Rachel Whitaker who were motivated to have their own Mighty Dog roofing service company as a result of the scary experience they had with a big home improvement project during the pandemic as first-time homeowners. They personally experienced having a contractor who failed to communicate and fulfill their promises. Worst of all, the contractor failed to offer quality work for their home. Their mission is to ensure that homeowners and other property owners will not experience what happened to them.
