June 21, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Cattai, NSW based Patterson Built is inviting Sydney residents to get in touch to start planning their next custom pool installation. The company specialises in working closely with clients to create unique, functional and aesthetically pleasing installations that would be the pride of any homeowner or organisation.

“A pool does not need to have an unusual shape to require a custom build,” comments a representative from Patterson Built. “The area it is being installed in, the purpose it will serve, the number of individuals it is expected to accommodate over a certain period and more can all have an impact on its construction. With us, you get more than creativity in your pool’s design – you get a problem-solving team that can overcome virtually every challenge you throw at us.”

Patterson Built’s service is comprehensive and all-inclusive, meaning clients can have all their pool-related requirements and concerns addressed by a single source. Having been in the industry for more than 20 years, the custom pool builder has established a strong network of supporting partners who are able to meet or exceed their long-established standards for quality, and the benefit of this is immediately apparent in their results. Every project is unique, and therefore every project requires a personalised touch. With Patterson Built, clients are guaranteed to get exactly what they want.

The company is capable of building pools in accordance with a variety of factors. In many cases, for instance, the primary limitation of a project may appear to be its budget, but the company encourages clients not to let this be too much of a concern. Thanks to their wealth of experience in the industry, the company’s master builders are more than capable of developing designs that are beautiful without exceeding the project’s parameters, and this includes its budget. While certain compromises may have to be made in a project’s size or scope, the company assures that they never hold back in terms of quality.

On the other end of the spectrum, Patterson Built points out that a large budget should not result in a pool that is extravagant for its own sake. The team has a strong understanding of what constitutes a tasteful addition, pulling inspiration from a variety of sources, and they will be more than happy to share their recommendations when discussing a design with any client. The client always has the final word, however, and the company will execute their vision down to every last detail when a decision is reached.

Notably, Patterson Built only takes on a small number of pools each year. This ensures that the company's focus is not divided between too many projects and allows their artisans to give their complete attention wherever it may be necessary. The advantage of this, clients always discover, is that projects are delivered both on time and within budget. Patterson Built allows no room for error.

Many find the company exceedingly easy to work with. A client shares that, "Patterson Built, lead by Grant and his team were all very professional and a pleasure to work with. Great quality and workmanship, leading to a fantastic finished product and excellent after care service. Would highly recommend Patterson Built to anyone looking for a fantastic builder and team to build their dream home."

The contractor is also considered a great partner. "My company provides services on site for Patterson Built," says a business that has contributed to projects with Patterson Built. "I've worked for a few builders, but never one as particular as Grant and his team. Nothing is missed. You can be assured that all trades involved will deliver a job of the highest quality."

These traits have contributed to Patterson Built's reputation as Sydney's top custom home builder, and they are ready and willing to put their expertise to work on custom pools as well. The company invites all interested parties to contact their office via phone or email to discuss any future projects. The company also has a presence on Facebook and Instagram.
