

Local Business Generator Announces Services For Internet Marketing Bromley Kent Companies Can Use

March 27, 2015

March 27, 2015 -

Local Business Generator, a Beckenham, Kent-based internet marketing services provider, has announced that they are offering internet marketing services in Bromley Kent. The company has built their business on a variety of promoted features, such as search engine optimisation, social media optimisation, pay per click marketing, web design, app development, press releases and online reputation management.

The Local Business Generator services can be seen through the company website at www.localbusinessgenerator.co.uk, where they encourage new clients to contact them to take advantage of a free consultation that is worth £1000. This can be quickly and efficiently arranged by potential new clients by entering personal data into the consultation box on the main page of the company site. The purpose of this consultation is reportedly to increase online visibility, increase traffic, create more engaging content, build better leads, bring in new traffic and customers, support an increase in revenue, and grow a greater base of profits for users. The company has said the following of their dashboard system:

"Unlike freelancers and other digital marketing agencies, we provide our clients access to progress reports. We use a reporting dashboard where you can find all the data about your campaign. Our reporting system ensures everything is in place and that all goals are accomplished on time."

While the company asks the basic question of "Will You Contact Us For a Free £1000 Pro Consultation," clients who are uncertain about whether or not Local Business Generator is right for them can scan the many testimonials and company portfolio for better insight on this and other worries. The portfolio alone creates a much stronger idea of what they are capable of, and supplies ample examples of responsive web design tactics, social media design options, PPC landing page design concepts, and logo design ideas.

The team at Local Business Generator also supplies these Bromley Kent services with a dollop of humor as seen in the description of their follow-up process for clients who convert to their services and sign up for a consultation:

"We will then haunt you with emails, check to see when you opened our emails, call you within 30 seconds of opening any email from us, and display banner ads in front of you online until you have never-ending dreams about our brand. Woops! Did we say that out loud?"

This particular bit of joking around seems to represent the company's passion for marketing, and what it means in the modern world of e-commerce and sales. They have made it clear that by supplying the most in-depth research and follow-up action to their clients, they in turn increase their own sales by effectively managing their own brand. This reflects the type of work that future clients can hope to see, as well as how the Local Business Generator brand may grow in the future and what new services could be offered later.
