New Braunfels, TX - June 26, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Dr. Mark Hickman, MD, FACS, an expert vasectomy reversal surgeon in New Braunfels, TX, is proud to announce that the affordable vasectomy reversal service that he provides has earned more five star reviews. The microsurgical surgeon who has focused on offering vasectomy reversals has already performed thousands of successful reversals during the 26 years that he has been practicing his craft. Currently, his practice has an overall rating of 4.9 out of 5 stars on Google.

In one of the recent reviews, Chad G. gave the practice a five star rating and said, "Had my reversal done 2 days ago. Mark and his team were nothing but professional! I had mine done under local anesthesia and it was not near as bad as I thought it would be. Pain was minimal and I fell asleep halfway through the procedure. Thank you so much for answering all of my wife's questions. We are looking forward to having a baby and will keep you updated! God bless you." In another recent review, Alexander G. also gave them five stars and said, "Don't go anywhere else but here for your VR! It is worth the drive! Thank you Dr Hickman."

Dr. Mark Hickman offers two all-inclusive affordable alternatives for getting a vasectomy reversal. The first alternative for a microsurgical vasectomy reversal is priced at $3,300. For this option, an oral sedative and local anesthesia will be used to ensure the pain and discomfort will be minimal. The second alternative has a price tag of $4,200, which includes the use of IV sedation that is administered by a board certified anesthesiologist. It is important to note that both options are all-inclusive, which means the patient is assured there are no additional costs and no surprises when it comes time to pay the bill.

Dr. Hickman will perform a microsurgical repair of the vas deferens, which is the tube that connects the testes to the urethra. This is the tube where the sperm goes through from the testes to where it is ejaculated during sexual intercourse. In a vasectomy, the vas is cut and sealed to block the sperm and prevent it from reaching the egg for conception. It is this artificial way of preventing conception that Dr. Hickman objects to because of his religious belief. In the vasectomy reversal procedure, he will search for the ends of the vas and free them from the surrounding scar tissue. He will join the ends together and form a watertight closure by using fine nylon suture.

However, before joining the ends together, he wants to minimize the risk of failure. That is why he will first take a sample fluid from the testicular end of the vas deferens and examine this under the microscope to check if sperm is present. If there is no sperm in the fluid, there is an obstruction that is blocking the sperm. This is as an epididymal blowout, which means that he will need to perform a vasoepididymostomy aside from the vasovasostomy. Fortunately for the patient, there will be no additional charge.

Launched in 1988 by Dr. Mark Hickman, the practice that is known as Microsurgical Vasectomy Reversals by Dr. Mark Hickman features Dr. Hickman's pioneering techniques for minimally invasive surgery. He completed his general surgery residency training at the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio, which was where he got to know the microsurgery techniques that were being applied in cosmetic and reconstructive surgery. He immediately observed that microsurgery can provide a much better experience for his patients. Thus, he decided to specialize in microsurgery for his practice that offers vasectomy reversals. Currently, he has already performed thousands of successful vasectomy reversals, and he expects to continue his vasectomy reversal ministries to help more men regain their ability to father a child and discourage those who are considering undergoing a vasectomy.

Those who would like to get more details about the vasectomy reversal service can visit the Microsurgical Vasectomy Reversals by Dr. Mark Hickman website or contact them through the phone or by email. They are open from 8:30 am to 5:00 pm, from Monday to Friday.
