December 22, 2015 -
Coronado, CA business Perfectly Vivid has recently released a YouTube video showing how their newly launched tactical flashlight helps keep children safe at night. The company's goal in creating the product was to make it highly multi-functional, allowing it to be used in a variety of different situations, for many different things. They have now released information on how the product can help keep children safe at https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3WOh3hJpX5k.

"Keeping kids safe is always a parent's to priority," says the founder of Perfectly Vivid, Dr. Christopher Vogelmann. "Our tactical flashlight means that they can ensure their children are even safer at night. We have also released a YouTube video that demonstrates exactly how our flashlight can improve children's safety."

The flashlight has been designed to be lightweight, yet extremely durable. Constructed from aircraft grade aluminum, it weighs almost nothing. Yet, in recent tests, it was found to be so strong that it survived being run over by a truck. This means it is equally suitable for young children, as it is light enough for them to carry it, yet strong enough to survive the inevitable drops on the floor.

For Perfectly Vivid, as can be seen on their website http://perfectlyvivid.com/, the goal was to create something that could help survivalists in any situation. While many people enjoy getting survivalist items, very few think of items that are suitable for children, who will also need protection during difficult times. This is one of the things the company feels makes the tactical flashlight so unique and so popular.

"This flashlight is a great and handy item to have in your car, to take camping or traveling," says Vicki F. "We like to keep a small flashlight with us in hotel rooms when we travel. This flashlight is extremely well made and it is clearly a quality product. It's super bright and the LED will last for 100,000+ hours of usage. You have the peace of mind knowing that it's going to work when you need it. This flashlight very durable, made of military-grade aluminum, and it's heavy-duty without being weighty. This could well be the last flashlight you'll ever have to buy."

Perfectly Vivid encourages everybody to 'Like' them on Facebook, https://www.facebook.com/perfectlyvivid/?fref=ts, and explain how they have used the flashlight.
