

DJI Phantom 3 Drone Up For Grabs In Christmas Contest

December 21, 2015

December 21, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Chicago Fire Wire has announced that they will be giving away a DJI Phantom 3 Drone in a Facebook Christmas contest. The giveaway will end on December 24, 2015 and will ship within two business days. Entering the contest is completely free.

"We are excited to announce probably the best and baddest giveaway of the Christmas season yet," says Eric from Chicago Fire Wire. "Here is your chance to win a DJI Phantom 3 Drone for you or your Fire Department for Christmas. The Chicago Fire Wire staff want to thank you for supporting our site, sharing our articles and submitting content for us to post."

In order to take part in the contest, people are asked to share the contest post on Facebook, complete the attached form which asks who is giving the drone away and like the Chicago Fire Wire Facebook page. A winner will be chosen at random and they will be able to get the Phantom 3 drone for free. It is expected that many people will regard this as a great Christmas present and the contest is already proving to be incredibly popular.

Chicago Fire Wire is a business that supports the work done by every firefighter in Chicago, and the world at large. Within this profession, drones have proven to be incredibly popular and useful. They have enabled people to see the extent of wild fires, for instance, which has actually helped to save lives and property. In running the contest, the company wants to bring more attention to the amazing work done by fire departments all over the country.

The contest is already becoming very popular and people have been discussing the various things they do with their existing drones, or would do should they win the DJI Phantom 3.
