OK based Gatsby Glass of Oklahoma City would like to inform local residents about some of the glass and mirror solutions the company has available. The company has glass solutions for both homes and businesses and has been working closely with clients on their ideal builds for many years. See more here: Visit Company Website.

Gatsby Glass produces and supplies various custom glass items for a wide variety of uses. This includes shower doors, wine rooms, partitions, railings, mirrors and more. Every glass piece from Gatsby Glass is made and installed by expert technicians with years of experience.

Their services begin with a consultation, following which a design will be created before the team proceeds to installation. For instance, shower door installations are one of the company's most requested services, and they always begin with an in-depth consultation where a Gatsby Glass design specialist sits down with the client and attempts to understand their vision. This is a critical part of the process.

A high quality, expertly installed glass shower door can elevate any bathroom space, and with the Gatsby team working around the clock to deliver quality and excellence, clients can be sure they are getting some of the best glasswork money can buy. Additionally, the Gatsby Glass team strives to work around every client's busy schedule.

Creating an ornate and open feel in your bathroom can be achieved through our shower door installation and service, the company says. A custom shower door requires intimate industry knowledge and a vast selection of high-quality products that a large majority of big-box chains and small Oklahoma City contractors don't have the time or resources to perfect. Our Oklahoma City crew, however, has been deeply involved in custom shower door work for decades and is supplemented with the proper industry know-how and top-of-the-line tools to create a work of art you can admire every time you feel like freshening up.

The company's glass railing consultation and installation services also come with the same high standard of service. A glass railing is one of the many ways in which glass can be used to redefine a given space. Many houses now feature a full, unobstructed view from the backyard patio, for instance, thanks to their beautifully constructed glass railings. These installations also work as high-end fencing in certain situations, such as with pools.

Many also express the view that a railing made of glass actually adds a layer of sophistication. Gatsby Glass has already worked on dozens of glass railing installations, and a client can always trust the company to produce quality railing that is sure to change any space for the better.

Gatsby Glass is also well known for producing and installing custom mirrors. The company has everything from traditional framed, beveled and antique mirrors to TV, LED lights, backlights and even Smart Touch technology. The company's team of expert consultants are always ready to work with clients on building the perfect mirror for any space, and many Oklahoma residents trust Gatsby Glass with all their mirror-related needs.

The company's glass fixture design and installation services follow a simple 3-step process. The first step is to design the client's space using state-of-the-art digital construction tools. They take into account the client's needs and preferences when developing a cohesive, functional, aesthetically pleasing design. The next step is to prepare an estimate and get exact measurements of the space before beginning the process of producing the client's glass fixtures. Once this is done, the company's team of expert installers completes the project maintaining the highest possible level of professionalism at every step.

A number of clients have left excellent reviews of the glass installation company. One glowing review of Gatsby Glass says, "The shower glass enclosure looks amazing and was accurately installed! Your diligence in the details for getting exact measurements, cutting the glass and perfect installation make your company stand out in the glass industry. We appreciate the short timeline from measurement, selection and install, you exceeded our expectations in every way!?
