“Our Mighty Dog Roofers are a top-performing roofing team renowned for their expertise in roof repair, replacement and other related services,” says Mighty Dog Roofing. “They have consistently delivered stunning and secure roofing solutions, providing clients with comfortable and aesthetically pleasing homes in Northwest Chicago Illinois and across the nation. We are a locally owned-and-operated residential and commercial roofing contractor. We work with the best manufacturers in the roofing industry and home improvement to deliver a quality installation that will last for years.”

No matter the location, 20 years of exposure to sun, wind, rain and snow are enough to wear down any roof regardless of what material it is made of. This means that it is necessary to have roofing experts come by and perform inspections, repairs and replacements at some point. Whatever is needed, it is always best to work with the most qualified and experienced experts on any roof-related project.

To simplify matters, Mighty Dog Roofing provides detailed estimates and comprehensive quotes to the client that outline all the available options that are available. This allows them to gauge just how much a proposed roofing project would cost.

Part of what makes Mighty Dog roofing one of the top providers of roofing services is the company's honesty and integrity. They take great pride in providing only the best services and using only the highest quality materials. Additionally, the company understands the importance of accuracy when it comes to roofing and has invested a great deal into securing the best equipment on the market so as to offer accurate reports on the state of any client's roof.

To begin with, the company uses drone technology to provide verifiable and credible inspection information. A quick but thorough drone scan allows Mighty Dog Roofing to establish the baseline health of a client's roof, which in turn allows the company to provide better service and also supplies the client with useful information for insurance claims.

Mighty Dog Roofing believes in not only providing excellent roofing for today but also future-proofing a client's property. The company makes it a point to ensure that their client's roofs are ready to last another 20 years, and the Mighty Dog team is always ready to respond to calls from clients in need of expert assistance with any roofing related issues.

The roofing company is run by an individual named Tony Bedell, a Chicago native who is excited to bring the Mighty Dog experience to the local community. He has, throughout his career, always put exceptional customer service first and uses his many skills to find solutions to a variety of problems. It is his leadership that has made Mighty Dog Roofing one of the top roofing companies in Chicago.

"We love being in Northwest Chicago Illinois, and helping any way we can," said Tony Bedell. "From providing roofs to veterans and supporting our local Humane Society to participating in Habitat for Humanity efforts, Mighty Dog of Northwest Chicago Illinois wants to make a difference."
