TX based Groovy Hues of Hill Country is pleased to announce that all their exterior painting services are now available for homeowners in the area. The company offers a complete spectrum of painting services that are designed to meet a house's practical needs as well as deliver exemplary customer service. Groovy Hues customers should be aware that the company's services extend beyond painting. For instance, they can install, repair and replace gutters and shutters, and they offer a range of washing services (including power washing and soft washing). This essentially means that homeowners can have virtually all their exterior needs taken care of with a single contractor, from fixing gutters and shutters to washing the visible surfaces and preparing them for a fresh coat of paint.

"Customer service and convenience are important to the team," says a representative from Groovy Hues of Hill Country. "We noticed some time ago that homeowners tend to need certain services together, such as the aftermath of a storm when minor repairs need to be made and they decide the time is right for a full wash and a fresh exterior. Previously, our community might have had to spread the work between several providers. This is not the best way to handle it. Luckily, Groovy Hues can now take care of you and your house.?

There are several advantages to using a single provider. For one, the customer does not have to coordinate schedules, payments and so on with several teams. Since Groovy Hues takes care of the entirety of such projects, their team members can decide how to approach a house after discussing the matter with the homeowner in question. Once the customer's needs are outlined, Groovy Hues can decide how best to proceed. This greatly simplifies matters.

As an added bonus, this simplicity means there is less room for error. A customer working with Groovy Hues does not have to determine which service should be carried out first (or talk to several unrelated providers for advice). They only have to talk to one company to find out what they need.

Groovy Hues offers a number of practical accommodations that improve the overall customer experience as well. Many, for instance, will appreciate that the company is able to provide On-the-Spot Financing and estimates when requested. Given the budgetary concerns a homeowner may have, the company is pleased to have a representative create a payment plan while discussing the scope of a project. This process is so easy that anyone can do it, and the company says the financing plan also makes larger exterior makeovers more accessible for the average homeowner.

"Hands down the best experience I have ever had with a painting service," says a customer in their review of one of the company's offices. "Since we were about to sell our house, we didn't have a lot of time to find a painter for our carport, house trim, etc. Trey came out and assured us he could get it all done before the house showings. We were so impressed with him, we didn't even get a second quote. More importantly, our confidence in Trey paid off beyond measure. Not only did he and his team knock it out of the park, they were able to repair and paint a lot of things on the spot - stucco, damaged roof areas, etc."

Another customer shares, "We painted the whole house with the kitchen cabinet. Those guys are really professional. Show up on time, attention to detail, a clear quote, and left with everything clean and no damaged furniture. They helped us with picking the color and paint type. Highly recommended."

Groovy Hues of Hill Country is ready to work with homeowners and businesses throughout the area.
