Nashville, TN - August 02, 2023 -
Brentwood, Tennessee - Cutting Edge Foot and Ankle Clinic, a premier podiatric care facility, is proud to announce recent press coverage in the Brentwood City Lifestyle Magazine for their continuing mission of providing accessible and compassionate foot care for patients. Co-Founded by Yerusalem Lanier, D.P.M. and David Farnen, D.P.M., the clinic's team of medical specialists is dedicated to delivering cutting-edge treatments and comprehensive care for various foot and ankle conditions.

Inspired by her parents' struggles with diabetes and gout-related foot issues, Dr. Lanier is on a mission to alleviate suffering and prevent complications related to foot ailments. "Staying on the cutting edge means providing the latest treatments, but also being there for people to answer questions and to guide them back to healthier lives. That's why we make every effort to get patients in as quickly as possible," she explains.

Cutting Edge Foot and Ankle Clinic has rapidly expanded, now serving patients across five convenient locations:

Brentwood clinic: 1001 Health Park Drive, Suite 330

Skyline clinic: 3443 Dickerson Pike, Suite 740, Nashville

Whitehouse clinic: Crossroads Medical, 491 North Sage Road, White House

Pleasant View clinic: 254 Ren Mar Center Drive, Suite 100, Pleasant View

Downtown clinic: 2201 Murphy Ave., Suite 215, Nashville

Initially led exclusively by Dr. Lanier, the clinic gained popularity for its comfortable cures for ingrown toenails, exceptional results for bunions and hammertoe deformities, and innovative techniques to heal chronic wounds.

Dr. Lanier's impressive academic journey includes graduating from Fisk University, followed by Kent State College of Podiatric Medicine in Cleveland, and completing her surgical training at St. Vincent Hospital Podiatric Residency in Worcester, Massachusetts, near Boston.

Beyond her work hours, Dr. Lanier finds joy in spending time with her husband, David, an emergency medicine physician, and their two daughters. Moreover, she hosts the Apple podcast titled Med Nation, where she and her colleague, Dr. David Farnen, D.P.M., engage in meaningful discussions on current medicine and healthcare industry issues. The podcast also features interviews with guest experts and podiatrists from around the world.

Dr. Lanier emphasizes the importance of addressing top conditions that emerge with age, including pain management, orthotic options, proper footwear, regenerative medicine, surgical applications, staying active, and physical therapy to rebalance muscular systems. "We love keeping people on their feet, enjoying their lives, doing what they want to do," she adds.

"Your feet are an essential part of the body and often overlooked. We believe in treating feet with the care they deserve," reminds Yerusalem Lanier, D.P.M., founder/CEO, Cutting Edge Foot and Ankle Clinic. The clinic has particularly excelled in assisting patients with prevalent foot challenges, such as Plantar Fasciitis heel pain. For two consecutive years, Dr. Lanier was named a top podiatrist in Nashville by the site Three Best Rated, based on a rigorous 50-point inspection, including customer reviews, history/excellence, complaints, ratings, satisfaction/trust, and costs.

Cutting Edge Foot and Ankle Clinic now also offers telehealth medicine. With a focus on accessibility and convenience, Cutting Edge Foot and Ankle Clinic's Telehealth Podiatry services aim to serve patients with limited mobility, enabling them to access expert care without the need for in-person visits unless absolutely necessary.

To streamline the process and keep costs low, the telehealth calls are direct-pay only. Patients who need to work through insurance can visit one of the clinic's physical locations, where the same exceptional care is provided.
