They have been offering their roofing services to Sanpete County in Utah and surrounding areas, providing roofing and siding solutions for friends, neighbors, and other members of their community. The company has evolved into one of the only five roofing companies in Utah who have been certified as a Malarkey Emerald Premium Contractor.

Vern Akauola, owner of Clean Cut Roofing & Siding, says, ?It's our goal to hire and train only the best ?roofing specialists? and ?siding technicians? to deploy to our home exterior service areas. Furthermore, our goal is to look for experts that already know their way around the world of roofing and siding as well as individuals new to the world of construction that are eager to learn and excited to be part of a team that focuses on excellent work. As a result, of this dedication to bringing on board true craftsmen, that has helped us build a reputation as a top-tier contractor in Sanpete County, a reputation that we are incredibly proud of and recognition that we hope to continue to build on. Nevertheless, we still feel excited when receiving highly positive reviews from our customers.?

In the above-mentioned Clean Cut Roofing & Siding customer review, Tay Davis said, ?Our first experience was with Josh the salesman. He was very in formative and gave us a few hints. Not at all pushy. We felt good about doing business with this company after talking with him. The workers were experienced and knowledgeable. They did a beautiful job. Our siding installer even installed siding where I thought it was impossible. Our 135 year old home looks fabulous. I would highly recommend this company.?

Clean Cut Roofing & Siding offers services for asphalt shingle roofing, metal roofing, commercial flat roofing, and siding. The company is a certified asphalt roofing contractor with Malarkey Roofing Products, which allows them to offer warranties from the manufacturer. They are also certified through various manufacturers of all kinds of roofing systems. Malarkey backs their work with a non-prorated warranty period for shingles and accessories for complete reroofing projects. All Malarkey designer and architectural shingles come with smog reducing granules, which are activated by the UV rays from the sun. These granules will then break down the smog particles converting them into a plant-usable form of nitrogen. This nitrogen compound is washed away from the roof by rain or snow.

They can also provide metal roofing services, offering two kinds of metal panels for residential roof systems, which are the 5R9 and Vintage Rib Panels. These panels are coated with a paint system that can last for 40 years, which is the Rb3 premium coil coating system that offers protection from the weather. It is also very resistant to fading and chalking.

Clean Cut Roofing & Siding is a family-oriented and operated business that has been providing roofing contractor services for more than 19 years.
