

Smilez Pediatric Dental Group Loudoun Is Offering Pediatric Dentistry Services In Dulles, VA

August 23, 2023

August 23, 2023 -
Smilez Pediatric Dental Group Loudoun is offering caring and comfortable pediatric dentistry services to patients in Dulles, Aldie, Brambleton, Stone Ridge, South Riding, and surrounding areas in Virginia.

The American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry recommends that all children see a dentist for the first time no later than their first birthday. While the recommendation ensures that parents don?t wait too long to start preventive dental care, in reality, most children experience a lot of anxiety about visiting a dental office. This may lead to children having an adverse relationship with their dental service providers and can have negative long-term ramifications on their dental health.

The spokesperson for the Dulles pediatric dentists office says, ?At Smilez Pediatric Dental Group Loudoun, our primary goal is to make children feel comfortable with visiting the dentist, the moment they walk in through the doors. We understand just how scary the thought of going to the dentist is for children. So, we do everything we can to put them at ease and make the entire experience fun and informative. Our staff of hygienists and dentists use simple language to convey the importance of proper oral health practices and provide a level of treatment and care that is second to none.?

Smilez Pediatric Dental Group Loudoun offers preventive care services such as dental exams and cleanings, mouthguards, fluoride, and sealants, as well as other dental services such as dental care for babies, thumb-sucking, dental emergencies, sports dentistry, and dental sedation. New patients can also get started with a $79 comprehensive dental exam that helps parents understand their child?s dental needs and make a plan to meet those needs.

The team of dental experts at Smilez Pediatric Dental Group is led by Dr. Lance Cheng, a Virginia native who holds a DDS degree from Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) School of Dentistry where he graduated with the American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry Predoctoral Student Award and the Academy of Dental Materials Award. He received his certificate in pediatric dentistry from NYU Langone Hospitals-Advanced Education in Pediatric Dentistry and completed his residency at Suncoast Community Health Center, Tampa General Hospital, and South Florida Baptist Hospital.

Dr. Cheng explains the dental clinic?s mission by saying, ?Our goal is to provide dental care of unrivaled quality in a pleasing environment. We want to help even our youngest patients learn the best and most effective methods for achieving and keeping a healthy smile that will last a lifetime. To achieve this, we always put you, our patients, first in all we do. Call us today to schedule an appointment and experience our legendary care and service.?

Hundreds of parents and their young ones have benefitted from the caring and compassionate care offered at Smilez Pediatric Dental Group Loudoun. The dentist?s office has earned an impressive overall rating of 4.6 out of 5.0 on its Google Business Profile from nearly 80 reviews with patients praising the clinic?s dedicated staff, their wide range of pediatric dentistry services, and customer service.

A recent review says, ?We have been going to Smilez for more than 5 years now. My daughter is 10. Dr. Lance and Paulina make the best team! Dr. Lance made 2 canines extraction like a walk in the park. He is very child friendly and explains everything clearly to young ears. Definitely recommend it to everyone! Thank you for everything you, Paulina, and the whole Smilez staff do each day!?

Another parent writes, ?Dr.Lance is the best. He is honest, compassionate, patient, and much more. He always listens to your concerns and always answers your questions to the best of his knowledge. My daughter was traumatized by her previous dentist, and with Dr. Lance, she has eased up. He is hands-on. He is very patient with her and makes sure she?s comfortable. Thank you, Dr. Lance!!?
