Stamford, CT based Safe Laser Therapy LLC is offering a range of cold laser therapy services to help residents in Connecticut and New York address their weight concerns. The clinic regularly welcomes clients from Stamford, Darien, New Canaan, Norwalk, Old Greenwich, Cos Cob, Riverside, Greenwich, Wilton, Westport and Weston (CT) as well as Pound Ridge, Bedford, Armonk, Port Chester, Rye and Bedford Hills (NY).

Regardless of where a patient is from, the clinic is respectful of the fact that their clients have to invest both time and money to pay them a visit. As such, every consultation is taken seriously, and clients are assured that their condition will be investigated thoroughly and efficiently as possible. Safe Laser Therapy aims to avoid waste in every form, be it in the materials they utilize or in a client?s time and energy.

The clinic is capable of treating a number of conditions via cold laser therapy, but they say a significant fraction of the community wishes to know more about its efficacy in weight loss and management.

Specifically, they explain, clients want to know how much cold laser therapy can do to help them pursue their weight management goals. The clinic is known for utilizing state-of-the-art technology and techniques that assure safe, non-invasive, drug-free and painless procedures for a variety of conditions, so they are pleased to confirm that the same is true for their weight management services.

Cold laser therapy, also known as low-level laser therapy, uses lasers on specific parts of the body to suppress an individual?s appetite. This laser, as its name suggests, is not hot enough to cause harm, and patients experience no more than low levels of heat over the course of a session.

Safe Laser Therapy explains that a range of wavelengths and outputs of low-level light are used to treat the areas in need of attention. As the body absorbs the light emitted, its tissues experience a reaction that promotes regeneration at a deep level. The clinic says this therapy is most effective when used in conjunction with other techniques or lifestyle changes, such as appropriate exercise and diet programs.

Another of the leading technologies available at Safe Laser Therapy is known as the FAR-infrared Body Wrap. Infrared heat is able to penetrate deeper into the body, which allows it to affect more than the skin layers. According to the clinic, this method of internal heating causes the body to release as much as 15% more toxins than traditional body wraps (which are done without heat). Such toxins may include alcohol, nicotine and even heavy metals, which would otherwise accumulate in the body.

This is not the only effect these wraps have, however. The FAR-Infrared Body Wrap by Safe Laser Therapy burns calories in addition to detoxifying the system, slimming and toning the body as it works. As the therapy progresses, it reduces fat and cellulite throughout the body, thereby encouraging weight loss.

Many clients have already worked with Safe Laser Therapy to manage their weight. E. Conlon says, ?I started going to Safe Laser Therapy about two months ago. As a future bride, I wanted to lose inches and feel less stressed. It really does wonders! I have gone 2-3 times a week and feel amazing when I leave. I feel lighter, rested, my sleeping is 100% better and I have lost inches and pounds! Malti is wonderful, and she really wants me to succeed and feel great on my big day! Highly recommend it!?

The clinic can help with a number of other concerns as well. As P. Wargo says, ?I came here for help to quit smoking. I had the detox wrap and the laser therapy. Malti was very informative on each procedure that was being done. She even sent a lengthy email before my appointment and had details about how to prepare before coming. The place is very clean, Malti is very understanding and really cares about your needs. I smoked for 40+ years and so far (8 days) have not picked up a cigarette. There are no cravings at all. I highly recommend Safe Laser Therapy for quitting. Cannot say enough about how knowledgeable Malti is. Even checks in with you to see how you're doing.?

Safe Laser Therapy encourages clients to get in touch over the phone to schedule their next consultation for cold laser therapy or any other service on offer. The clinic will be delighted to help members of the community achieve their health and wellness goals.
