Encore Data Products Co-Sponsors a Content Creation Kit Contest with HamiltonBuhl

August 28, 2023

LAFAYETTE, CO - August 28, 2023 -
Encore Data Products, a Lafayette, CO-based supplier of equipment and tools frequently used in classrooms and for remote learning such audio-visual technology, has partnered with HamiltonBuhl in sponsoring the Content Creation Kit Contest. Those interested will need to complete an online form. One winner will be randomly drawn, and this individual will receive a HamiltonBuhl MPSK-CT2 Media Production Studio Content Creation Kit #2. Unlimited entries are allowed for each individual, as well as for each school, district, or education agency. The winner will be informed via phone and/or by email.

The HamiltonBuhl MPSK-CT2 Media Production Studio Content Creation Kit #2 allows students to become content creators, instead of just consumers. This kit can help students in building media production, live-streaming and presentation skills while also providing them with more opportunities for learning about digital citizenship. It also provides the opportunity to gain experience in creating work for a broader audience instead of just their teacher, while also realizing their responsibilities to a real audience.

The HamiltonBuhl Content Creation Kit #2 has a number of components. One component is the On-Air!? Podcast Kit (PCAST4), which includes the USB Omnidirectional/Cardioid Podcasting Microphone with Desktop Stand, a Round Microphone Windscreen/Pop Filter, and a Folding Sound Isolation Shield. The second component is the Portable Podcast Mixer Production System (PCASTM) and the third component is the Smart-Trek Deluxe Headphones (ST1BK).

The portable USB type-C multi-functional microphone offers the flexibility and versatility that is needed for performing quality broadcasts, from almost any location, with clear and rich sound. The PCASTM allows the simplification of the production process through the combination of a number of digital audio mixing equipment into one comprehensive solution and is very easy to set up and use. The Smart-Trek? deluxe headphones included in the kit are sleek, durable, and versatile, and can be used with a wide range of technologies.
