Lucidx, lead generation company located in London which is based in London, United Kingdom, is proud to announce that they now hold the number one Google ranking for the term 'reputation SEO expert'. They believe this is a true testament to their hard work and dedication to the work that they do. By taking first place for a popular keyword themselves, they were able to demonstrate that they can achieve the same results for their clients.

"Taking that first place on Google is like the Holy Grail for SEO experts like us," says Deon Bryan from Lucidx . "The fact that we have been able to achieve that clearly shows that we know what we're doing. What we have achieved for ourselves, we can also achieve for our other clients and we look forward to proving this."

One of the key strengths of Lucidx is reputation management. They believe this to be an integral part of overall SEO or search engine optimization. If a company's reputation improves, they become easier to find by the very fact that more people will be looking for them. To show businesses how important online reputation is, they have also released a free reputation management report. This can be downloaded from their website and will explain why businesses need to improve on their reputation.

The work that Lucidx has completed have been positively reviewed by their many clients. "When it comes to reputation management, Deon Bryan is in a class of his own," says Robert B. from Secret Agent SEO Services. "After taking on a new client recently, I discovered some less than stellar reviews that were seriously harming this company's reputation. Negative comments posted on a popular review site were slowly suffocating the business. I knew that this kind of work required a specialist. That's when a colleague suggested Deon. Problem solved professionally and ethically - just the way it should be. Thanks Deon."
