February 05, 2026 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Standard Optical, a premier eye care provider in Utah, announces the consolidation of services from its Sandy, UT, and Taylorsville, UT, locations into its Murray, UT, office in order to elevate the practice's standards. This strategic move aims to enhance patient care and convenience while continuing to deliver exceptional vision solutions to the community.

With locations throughout the state, Standard Optical is dedicated to providing the highest level of service, expertise, and technology to patients. By bringing together the resources and expertise from the Sandy, Taylorsville, and Murray offices together, the company seeks to offer an even more comprehensive and streamlined experience for patients seeking eye care services.

"We felt this change was a necessary step in boosting our standards higher, and to give our patients the experience we know they deserve," said Aaron Schubach, President of Standard Optical. "Our focus is always on providing exceptional patient care and a wide selection of optical options, and this move means Standard Optical can continue to raise the bar for what patients in Utah should expect from their family eye doctor."

Patients will benefit from a seamless transition of care, with all their medical records and history automatically transferred to the Murray office. The new arrangement will enable patients to receive the same level of professionalism and attention they have come to expect from Standard Optical.

One of the key advantages of this transition for patients coming from the Sandy and Taylorsville locations is the expanded range of eyewear products and brands available at the Murray office. Patients will have access to even more frames, lenses, and contact lenses, with styles and customizations to fit every member of the family's fashion sense and visual needs. Standard Optical's team of experienced opticians will be on hand to assist patients in finding the perfect eyewear solutions that combine functionality and fashion.

In addition to comprehensive eye exams and a wide selection of eyewear, the Orem office will continue to offer many of specialized services, including:

Contact Lens Exams and Fittings: Standard Optical ensures patients have a comfortable and accurate fit for their contact lenses, for ideal comfort and vision.

Eye Disease Treatment and Management: Patients can continue to expect expert diagnosis, treatment, and management of various eye conditions, including dry eye, glaucoma, and macular degeneration.

Pediatric Eye Care: Children's eyes are constantly changing and developing, and Standard Optical's Murray office can help ensure healthy vision development from a young age.

LASIK Consultations: Standard Optical also provides guidance and assessment for individuals considering LASIK surgery in order to achieve clear vision without needing to rely on glasses or contact lenses.

"With this transition, we can enhance the patient experience through cutting-edge technology, an expanded array of frames, and increased appointment options," said Aundrea Brinkman, Vice President of Standard Optical.

As a family-owned and operated eye care practice for over a century, Standard Optical maintains its commitment to providing exceptional patient care for all patients, but especially ones transitioning from the Sandy or Taylorsville offices. Patients from the two offices are encouraged to schedule appointments at the Murray location. The Murray office is conveniently located at 5289 S State St, Murray, UT 84107, with ample parking and accessible facilities.
