Pennsylvania - With demand for well-bred and cute puppies, Breezy Hollow Puppies is happy to offer Goldendoodle puppies in Pennsylvania. The breeders offer Standard, Medium, Mini, and Micro Goldendoodles.

"The Goldendoodle is a very popular choice, known for the great discipline and gentle spirit of the retriever, as well as the high intelligence and incredible retrieval skills of the poodle, making the Goldendoodle hybrid a very well-liked dog," says Omar Lapp, owner of Breezy Hollow Puppies. "All of our puppies are 2nd generation (F1B), which makes them the least likely to shed and gives them the best chance of being hypoallergenic. The pride and passion are shown in each of Breezy Hollows Puppies."

Based in Millersburg, Pennsylvania, Breezy Hollow Puppies has raised puppies since 2015. With seven years of puppy-breeding experience, the local goldendoodle breeder understands the importance of having well-trained, social puppies. All Goldendoodle puppies are healthy and socialize well with family. Breezy Hollow Puppies also offers a premium Puppy Training Program to help start potty training.

Breezy Hollow Puppies offers shipping and ground transportation to closer locations. Puppies can easily be shipped to any major airport in Pennsylvania or the surrounding area for an additional $499.

Breezy Hollow Puppies are up to date on shots, have been dewormed, and have been checked by a vet for any health issues. All puppies come with a certificate of health signed by the vet, and all parents of the puppies are also genetic health tested. At eight weeks, puppies are well-socialized and partially potty trained. The breeders also offer tips on how to finish potty training after purchase.

The Breezy Hollow Puppies farm offers a positive and protected environment for new puppies to thrive. There is a small developmental window at the beginning of every dog's life where they are extremely sensitive to their environment. The number of positive encounters with other people and dogs during this period, ranging from just a few weeks to three or four months of age, can dramatically influence how friendly they are as adults.

Breezy Hollow Puppies raise Goldendoodles in 3 size ranges. Mini (10-20lbs), Medium (20-40lbs), and Standard (45lb+). They also offer a variety of colors: Blue, Merle, Cream, Black, Golden, and Red with white markings.

To see examples and sizes, Breezy Hollow Puppies includes photos of past adoptions on their website for reference.

The local Goldendoodle breeders partner with Great Lakes Pet Food to offer a puppy nutritional plan for the newest addition. Breezy Hollow Puppies are second-generation Goldendoodles and, with this pedigree, should be fed a quality diet. This puppy-healthy plan offers a grain-free diet specialized for Goldendoodles. The diet consists of meat and vegetable-based foods instead of classic grain-based kibble. While this diet costs more upfront, puppies thrive on a grain-free diet and could go to the vet less because of its benefits.

A grain-free diet means less smelly stool and less stool in general. Dogs eat 40% less on this diet, meaning less goes in and less comes out. Also, a dog's digestion will not work overtime to digest grains. When a dog eats grains, it cannot always digest them completely, and it can sit and rot in a dog's stomach, causing a smellier stool. This diet also strengthens a dog's immune system and gives the dog vital vitamins and minerals.

"We searched for Goldendoodle puppies near me and found Breezy Hollow Puppies. We couldn't be happier," says a Breezy Hollow Puppies customer. "Riley has been a great addition to our family. She has this lovable personality and always loves meeting new friends. She loves watching our kids play sports and barking at the garbage trucks."
