Home Mechanix Champions IRA HVAC Tax Credits For Pittsburgh PA Residents

September 08, 2023

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania - September 08, 2023 -
Home Mechanix, a highly rated HVAC contractor located in McCandless, Pennsylvania, about 10 miles north of Pittsburgh, is highlighting the provisions in the IRA (Inflation Reduction Act) for homeowners willing to adopt eco-friendly HVAC solutions for their home?s heating and cooling.

The Inflation Reduction Act of 2022 earmarked over $500 billion in spending and tax breaks for purposes such as boosting clean energy initiatives, reducing healthcare costs, improving tax compliance, and much more. For homeowners, this is a great opportunity to upgrade their existing home HVAC systems as the bill allows them to get a tax credit for switching to more energy-efficient alternatives.

?The purpose of these tax credits,? says Mat Stone, President of Home Mechanix, ?is to encourage homeowners to reduce their carbon footprint using environmentally friendly and high-efficiency heating and cooling products that will save money and energy. Some of the ways to get the tax credit include installing highly energy-efficient windows, doors, air conditioners, heating systems, and water heaters. Thanks to the tax credits, these upgrades make fiscal sense even if your existing system is not that old. We recommend that you upgrade your home with a heat pump that can take care of your home?s heating and cooling.?

Heat pumps replace the traditional paradigm of having both a furnace and an air conditioner in a home as it handles both. Heat pumps can both heat and cool the home ensuring year-round comfort with just one unit. Moreover, when purchased from the right manufacturer and installed by an expert, heat pumps can also offer savings on power bills up to 50%. Finally, getting a heat pump allows homeowners to double dip and get the tax credit for both furnaces and air conditioners.

Home Mechanix recommends The Ductless Mini Split Heat Pump from Mitsubishi as it is flexible in design allowing homeowners to cool one area of one room or the whole house. Mitsubishi mini splits provide ultra-high energy ratings, solve the problem of hot and cold spots, increase comfort, and improve indoor air quality (IAQ). Homeowners can also choose ENERGY STAR®-rated ducted solutions from Armstrong that meet the requirements of the IRA. Home Mechanix is a certified Mitsubishi Diamond Contractor, Armstrong Pro Dealer, as well as a Ductless All-Star.

?The new tax credits that we are urging local customers to take advantage of were put forth on January 1, 2023,? Mat says. ?If you need help making the right decision, give us a call and let our experts guide you on all the options available to you. Every HVAC installation has to be customized for every property. So, make sure you are working with an approved contractor with a history of delivering great work to get the full benefits.?

Home Mechanix has been repeatedly praised by Pittsburgh homeowners for its range of HVAC installation, repair, and maintenance services. The full-service Pittsburgh HVAC contractor also boasts an impressive overall rating of 4.8 out of 5.0 on its Google Business Profile from over 30 reviews with customers thanking the company for its work quality, affordable pricing, and stellar customer service.

A recent review says, ?Home Mechanix has been maintaining our HVAC system for six years. They are absolutely exceptional. Easy to make a convenient appointment with, punctual, very polite, and do a crazy great job. Not only do they get things right the first time, they are so respectful of our home. We bought a home with a very complex system already installed, and Home Mechanix helped us understand how to actually use it properly, and they keep all running perfectly. We can not recommend them enough!?

Another homeowner writes, ?All of my experiences with Matt and Home Mechanix have been extremely positive. After being impressed with Matt when he installed my Nest doorbell, I sought him out again when I wanted to add A/C to my home. Matt took the time to research my needs, explained my options, and answered my questions and when the time came, he and his crew did a great job. I highly recommend Home Mechanix and will be using them for all of my heating/cooling needs.?
