MURRAY, UT ? Standard Optical, a prominent eye care provider serving communities in Utah, announces the consolidation of services from its Sandy, Utah, and Taylorsville, Utah, locations into its Murray, Utah, office, as part of a strategic initiative aimed at optimizing operational efficiency. This move is intended to improve patient care and convenience while ensuring Standard Optical will continue to provide high-quality vision solutions to the community.

With a presence across various regions in the state, Standard Optical is dedicated to delivering consistent levels of service quality, expertise, and access to advanced diagnostics to its beloved patient base. Through the consolidation of resources and expertise from the Sandy, Taylorsville, and Murray offices, the company aims to offer a more streamlined and comprehensive experience for individuals seeking eye care services.

?We felt this change was a necessary step in boosting our standards higher, and to give our patients the experience we know they deserve,? said Aaron Schubach, President of Standard Optical. ?Our focus is always on providing exceptional patient care and a wide selection of optical options, and this move means Standard Optical can continue to raise the bar for what patients in Utah should expect from their family eye doctor.?

Standard Optical is pleased to announce that patients will experience a smooth and hassle-free transition of their medical records and history as they seamlessly transfer to the Murray office. This transfer ensures that patients will continue to receive the same high level of professionalism and care that they have come to associate with Standard Optical.

One of the significant benefits for patients relocating from the Sandy and Taylorsville locations is the expanded array of eyewear products and brands available at the Murray office. Patients will have access to an even wider selection of frames, lenses, and contact lenses, featuring styles and customizations that cater to the fashion preferences and visual needs of every family member.

In addition to offering comprehensive eye exams and an extensive eyewear collection, the Murray office will continue to provide an array of specialized services, including:

Contact Lens Exams and Fittings: Standard Optical is committed to ensuring patients enjoy a comfortable and precise fit for their contact lenses and that they provide optimal comfort and vision.

Eye Disease Treatment and Management: Patients can trust in expert diagnosis, treatment, and management of various eye conditions, including but not limited to dry eye, glaucoma, and macular degeneration.

Pediatric Eye Care: Children's visual needs are constantly evolving, and Standard Optical's Murray office is well-equipped to promote healthy vision development from an early age.

LASIK Consultations: Standard Optical also offers guidance and assessments for individuals contemplating LASIK surgery, enabling them to achieve clear vision without the dependence on glasses or contact lenses.

"With this transition, we can enhance the patient experience through cutting-edge technology, an expanded array of frames, and increased appointment options," said Aundrea Brinkman, Vice President of Standard Optical.

With a century-long legacy as a family-owned and operated eye care practice, Standard Optical remains steadfast in its dedication to delivering outstanding patient care. This commitment extends particularly to patients in the process of transitioning from the Sandy or Taylorsville offices. Patients from these locations are encouraged to arrange appointments at the conveniently situated Murray office, which can be found at the following address: 5289 State St., Murray, UT 84107. The Murray office offers ample parking and accessible facilities for patients' convenience.
