SPOKANE, WA ? Eye Consultants is proud to announce that Dr. Christian Draper will be joining their distinguished team of eye physicians and surgeons. Originally from Glendale, California, Dr. Draper brings a wealth of expertise and experience in the field of ophthalmology, with a focus on glaucoma and cataract surgery. His talent and dedication to patient care make him a valuable asset to the Eye Consultants family and communities in the Inland Northwest.

Dr. Christian Draper completed his undergraduate studies in biology at Brigham Young University, where his passion for the medical field began to take root. He then earned his Doctor of Medicine degree from the Texas Tech University Paul L. Foster School of Medicine in El Paso, Texas. Dr. Draper's commitment to advancing his skills and knowledge continued as he pursued an internal medicine internship at the University of California through Riverside Community Hospital and then finished his residency in ophthalmology at Nassau University Medical Center on Long Island, New York. During his residency, Dr. Draper had the privilege of completing rotations at the renowned Columbia University Harkness Eye Institute, and he was recognized for his exceptional performance and dedication to his craft when he served as chief resident during his final year of training.

After his residency, Dr. Draper embarked on a fellowship in Glaucoma at the Mayo Clinic in Jacksonville, Florida, where he focused on micro-invasive and traditional glaucoma surgery, glaucoma laser surgery, as well as conventional and complex cataract surgery. His commitment to innovation and patient-centric care perfectly aligns with Eye Consultants' mission to provide the highest quality of eye care to the community.

?As a comprehensive ophthalmologist and glaucoma specialist, it is a privilege to help my patients maximize their vision throughout life using time-tested treatments as well as novel therapies, micro-invasive glaucoma surgeries, and laser eye treatments to improve or preserve vision,? said Dr. Draper. ?I am excited to join the experienced team at Eye Consultants to work together to offer outstanding quality of care to the people of the beautiful Inland Northwest.?

Dr. Draper is also a member of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and the American Glaucoma Society. His specialization in micro-invasive and traditional glaucoma surgery, along with his proficiency in cataract surgery, reflects his dedication to advanced eye care.

When he's not focused on his medical pursuits, Dr. Draper indulges in his passion for music, art, and traveling. He and his family are avid outdoor enthusiasts, and they fully embrace the abundance of outdoor activities that the Inland Northwest offers, including hiking and skiing. He is excited to join Eye Consultants and utilize the latest advancements to help patients.

?Ophthalmology is a very technology-driven field, and advances in eye micro-surgery were made possible by innovating and adopting safer and more efficient devices and instruments as they became available? said Dr. Draper. ?I believe in offering my patients the treatment options that will best help them achieve their goals in the safest way possible. I also believe in giving every patient the same level of commitment and caring attitude I would give my own family members. I feel that open communication is key to success, and I value my patients' feedback so I can give the best care possible.?

Dr. Christian Draper is now accepting patients at Eye Consultants. Visit <https://eyeconsultantsnw.com/> to schedule an appointment and learn more.
