

Denver Stone Plus Now Offers Stone Remnants for Home Improvement Projects

October 02, 2023

October 02, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Denver Stone Plus, a company based in Denver, CO, is happy to announce they now offer stone remnants, which are ideal for home improvement projects, particularly for small kitchen islands, bathroom sinks, vanity tops, and more. Home improvements can really be costly, particularly when it comes to stone countertops. However, at Denver Stone Plus, they offer stone remnants, which came from the big slabs of stone used for bigger projects. These are leftover pieces that are too large to throw away but too small to be used in bigger projects.

Sue Zhou from Denver Stone Plus says, "Instead of letting these remnants go to waste, we offer them to our customers at a fraction of the cost. Our stone remnants are perfect for small home improvement projects such as bathroom sinks, small kitchen islands, vanity tops, and more. By choosing our stone remnants, you can achieve the same luxurious look without the hefty price tag. You can transform your home into a stunning masterpiece without breaking the bank with Denver Stone Plus' stone remnants."

The stone remnants are ideal for smaller home improvements, such as small kitchen islands, vanity tops, bathroom sinks, and more. Homeowners can choose from a wide variety of colors and patterns, which allows them to find the most suitable stone for their own budget and style. Clients can rest assured that the experienced and knowledgeable staff of Denver Stone Plus are ready to help them make the proper choice.

Sue Zhou adds, "Choosing stone remnants doesn't just save you money - it also ensures durability and longevity. Stone is a material that can withstand the test of time, making it a smart investment for any home improvement project. And with our affordable prices, you can achieve a luxurious look without breaking the bank. Discover endless possibilities for your home improvement projects with our wide selection of stone remnants. Whether you prefer manufactured or natural stone, we offer a variety of colors and patterns, including classic granite and elegant quartz, to suit your style and budget."

At Denver Stone Plus, they fully understand that no two home improvement projects will be the same. That is why they offer stone remnants that can be cut and shaped into whatever size and shape that is needed for the project. Their skilled craftsmen will employ the most advanced techniques for crafting the unique designs desired by the clients.

Denver Stone Plus can provide: quartz countertops, granite countertops, marble countertops, and quartzite countertops. Quartz is quickly gaining in popularity as a material for countertops because of its many benefits. Not only is it more durable compared to other countertop materials but it is also available in a variety of styles and colors. Granite countertops are also becoming more popular in Denver because it is easy to care for and is extremely durable. It has also become more affordable because of improvements in production and supply chain processes.

Marble is one of the mainstays among the natural stones and is regarded as a symbol of luxury and sophistication. Marble has the advantage of being heat resistant aside from having unique veining and colors. Lastly, quartzite is natural stone that looks like marble and is also durable and long-lasting.

Denver Stone Plus was established to provide a one-stop shop for stone countertops in Denver and surrounding areas. They offer various options, such as: granite, quartz, marble, slate, soapstone, and now, stone remnants. They are a full-service countertop company, which means they will handle everything from beginning to completion. One of the things that set them apart from similar providers in Denver is they only use the best materials. To do that, they only source their stones from trustworthy stone suppliers, including MSI Denver, Arizona Tile, Dorado Surfaces, and The Stone Collection. Second, their team of experienced installers and fabricators will handle everything. They are experienced in installing countertops in all kinds of homes, from small apartments to huge mansions. They also ensure full transparency with pricing, assuring clients there are no hidden fees.
