Irvine, California - October 13, 2023 -
GetDandy, an online reputation management software solutions company, is helping businesses leverage consumer feedback in the age of digital reviews. For more information, visit https://getdandy.com/how-to-remove-bad-reviews-on-google/.

As more and more people get internet savvy in the digital age, many have come to rely on large platforms such as Google and Yelp to dictate their buying habits. In fact, according to statistics from Review Trackers, over 81% of consumers are likely to visit Google Reviews before visiting a business. So, having a clean and wholesome online reputation becomes key to attracting new customers.

Genuine online reviews can make a business stand out in the eyes of its customers as a trustworthy and reliable provider of products and services. The social proof of having others attest to the services offered by a business fills customers with hope and assurance that they will have an equally pleasurable experience working with it.

However, at the same time, negative reviews, especially those left in bad faith, can tank a business?s

reputation, and make it hard to find new customers. This affects a business?s growth as new customers will steer clear of a service provider with too low of a rating on review aggregator sites.

?GetDandy has been built from the ground up to help you effortlessly build and improve your online reputation,? says the spokesperson for the company. ?We foster genuine positive reviews while contesting and removing negative reviews that unfairly paint your business in a bad light. We are able to achieve this with cutting-edge proprietary tech that ensures you only react to real feedback and get rid of the reviews that don?t tell an unbiased story.?

The company?s software suite features an NLP and ML-driven review legitimacy scoring system that identifies whether reviews or review contributors are in violation of any of the platform?s Terms of Service. When a review is flagged as legitimate, the software?s AI-powered automated review reply system writes replies using local SEO optimization to make them seem authentic, personal, and unique.

In case the system finds a negative review that can be disputed, it automatically triggers the process to contest it and have it removed from the business?s profile. This integration is available for a range of review aggregators such as Google, TripAdvisor, Facebook, Yelp, and more. The result is a clean online reputation that accurately mirrors the business?s true quality of service.

The full range of services offered by GetDandy?s software suite includes review removal, review aggregation, reputation management, reputation monitoring, review generation, surveys, reporting, web chat, and guest feedback QR codes. The company serves clients operating across a wide range of industries including healthcare, dental, real estate, home services, retail, legal, financial services, hospitality, automotive, restaurants, insurance, personal services, and more.

?To date, we have removed over 50,000 negative online reviews for our clients,? says the spokesperson, ?some of whom are large corporations such as Holiday Inn, Super 8, Wyndham Hotel Group, Midas, Berkshire Hathaway Home Services, and more. With GetDandy, your business?s online reputation is in safe hands as we fight the negativity and get your online reputation to reflect the hard work and dedication that you put in to serve your customers. In her review of GetDandy?s software, Rachel, the owner of Care Net Pregnancy Center says, ?We use GetDandy for online review management and we are very happy with their services. They have been able to remove negative reviews from our profiles some of which have been on our profile for months if not years. So, overall we have been very happy with GetDandy?s work for our center.?

Kevin Burke, the owner of Atlantic Homes, says, ?GetDandy handled our negative review removal quickly and professionally. It was affordable. Unfortunately, not-so-good people put bad reviews up and you need to force them to take them down. GetDandy did a great job and I highly recommend them.?
