Sullivan Contracting, based in Griswold, CT, would like to inform residents in Norwich that their roofing services are now available in the area. The company is accustomed to working on houses with a variety of needs, and they look forward to working with Norwich homeowners to preserve their roofs.

One of the company's most common requests is their roof leak repair service. With winter approaching, a lot of home and business owners are doing everything they can to make sure their roofs are in good condition. This is necessary given that said roofs need to be able to withstand the coldest months of the year, which are fast approaching.

A leak can mean that a roof is compromised and unable to protect the building beneath it from the harsh elements ? and protection from the elements is essential when going into winter. Sullivan Contracting is looking to make sure that all households in the area have adequate roofing this coming winter.

?Without a roof, no home is complete,? the roofing company says. ?You need a roof that?s as strong as a rock, and can withstand anything that comes its way, from the sunniest days into the stormiest nights. If your roof is failing to deliver, you cannot put off dealing with it. You need a skilled company that can make the repairs and swap damaged components for brand new ones. You will get all this and more with Sullivan Contracting, a leading roofing company in Connecticut.?

Sullivan Contracting offers affordable, reliable roofing services for commercial and residential buildings. Whatever a roof needs, the Sullivan Contracting team can provide it (and at a price that is highly competitive when compared to other roofers in the area). Most leaks can simply be repaired, but should a roof require total replacement, home and business owners in Norwich can trust Sullivan Contracting to leave their roof in nearly the same state as when it was first installed, if not even better.

Local residents prefer to work with Sullivan Contracting because the company does more for less. They offer free roofing estimates, for instance, providing a clear and accurate quote that helps clients decide if the company's services are within their budget. Each roofer that works with Sullivan Contracting has years of experience in the industry and a track record to envy.

Additionally, the company is fully licensed, bonded and insured. Clients can expect a 100% daily job site cleanup, meaning they do not have to worry about debris and unused materials being left lying around during or after a roof repair or installation. Once a roofing project is completed, the Sullivan Contracting team performs an 18-point inspection to ensure that every aspect of the job meets the company's very high standards. Beginning with the initial consultation, George came prepared and explained the product and process to me and took the time to answer any questions I had. Once scheduled, he kept me informed on time frame and scheduling. Roof replacement took one day. They arrived early, were very professional and polite, cleaning as they went. All my bushes and plants were covered to avoid damage, my patio was actually cleaner when they left than when they had arrived! Very impressed with the service, the roof looks great, I will be happy to use this company again and will definitely refer to others."
