Mt. Laurel, NJ ? Renowned poet, author, and life and business strategist Austin J. Haines, known as the "Digital Bard," graced the Holistic Health and Healing Expo 2023 (HHH Expo) this October with his poetic prowess and transformative insights. "...felt like something deep inside me was unlocked today. Austin changed [an] aura!" shared Bob, who came with this wife.

Austin's recent appearance at the HHH Expo, a holistic wellness and natural healing gathering, has been a testament to his commitment to helping individuals discover their own "Seeds of Infinitude®." His poetic mid-life oasis journey, reminiscent of the greats like Walt Whitman, Ralph Waldo Emerson, and Henry David Thoreau, has been hope and inspiration for many.

"Austin helped liberate a voice today," said an enthralled audience member, Jasmine.

The HHH Expo, sponsored by Natural Awakenings of South Jersey and hosted by founder Shae Marcus, witnessed over 2000 guests last year and is a paramount resource connecting attendees to age-old holistic practices adapted for today's world. With speakers and workshops that echo the teachings of renowned thought leaders, the expo is more than just an event?it's a movement. The next HHH Expo that Austin J. Haines is presenting is at The Drexelbrook, Drexel Hill, PA, on October 15, 2023, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.
