

Simply Clever Cards Declares Multiplication Flash Cards as Innovative Gift For Children This Christmas

December 18, 2015

December 18, 2015 -
Saratoga, FL - Simply Clever Cards has released an intuitive educational tool on the giant shopping portal Amazon. This product called Arithmetic Flash Cards is a method to assist children in gaining more knowledge in arithmetic. The company considers the cards as an innovative gift for children this Christmas.

The flash cards can be used to aid children with the challenging topic of mathematics. The cards can help to teach children addition, subtraction, multiplication and division. The multiplication flash cards are designed for children seven years and older. These flash cards are well suited to keep children from boredom during the Christmas and holiday period.

The multiplication flash cards can keep children active and engaged with learning outside of school time. The flash cards provide an interactive method of learning important mathematical concepts. Apart from the number comprehension mentioned previously the cards can also be used to learn fractions.

Parents are capable of teaching mathematics in an environment that is fun and entertaining. The cards employ a variety of methods to engage children in interactive play. Children can be assured this Christmas of getting a unique gift capable of giving hours of fun.

The multiplication flash cards can be used in different forms to enjoy playful enquiry. For example, the flash cards are capable of playing regular card games such as Memory, War, UNO, Go Fish, Crazy Eights and Old Maid. This wide variety ensures children can play many games in a relaxing manner. The possibility of doing these things stems from the fact that the deck has fifty two main playing cards just like a regular card deck. The flash cards are numbered zero to twelve and come in four distinct colors.

Additionally the card deck contains instructions printed on the joker cards. These provide an outline of various games that can be played using the multiplication cards. These many activities make it possible to engage children and teach them in a fun way about mathematics.

The multiplication flash cards can be purchased with free shipping if four or more decks are bought at once from Amazon.

###

For more information about Simply Clever Cards, contact the company here:Simply Clever CardsSimply Clever Cards3072220075enquiries@simplyclevercards.com4283 Express LaneSaratoga, FL United States 34238

Simply Clever Cards

We help you understand boring and difficult topics by playing entertaining games. Our NEXT GENERATION EDUCATIONAL CARDS ? combine the benefits of traditional flash cards with ordinary playing cards.

Website: http://simplyclevercards.com

Email: enquiries@simplyclevercards.com

Phone: 3072220075