Mars Forklifts, a forklifts specialist firm based in Smithfield, NSW, is offering forklift hire and rental services in Sydney and neighbouring areas. They offer various kinds of all terrain forklifts for hire, such as electric forklifts, scissor lifts, and LPG/ diesel forklifts. They want to emphasise that customers will be able to find the most efficient, most productive, and safest forklifts in Australia through them. More about these forklifts for hire can be gleaned from https://www.marsforklifts.com.au/forklift-hire/.

The electric forklifts available for hire are of various types. These include the: 3 wheel counter balance, 4 wheel counter balance, pallet mover, walkie reach, walkie stacker, stock picker, double deep reach truck, and reach truck. The 3-wheel forklifts are typically used for indoor storage and retail warehouses, including parcel depots, garden centres, and more. For applications that require more power and operations outdoors, the 4-wheel forklifts would be recommended. Pallet movers are typically used in warehouses and they are for moving pallets to the desired locations. The other types of forklifts are for lifting pallets and storing them into or retrieving them from pallet racks in a warehouse.

Scissor lifts are also available for rent from Mars Forklifts. A scissor lift provides a work platform that can only move vertically. It Is typically used for personnel, materials, and equipment that require lifting to a certain height. Available at Mars Forklifts are the 6-metre, 8-metre, 10-metre, and elevating work platform (EWP) lifts.

Mars Forklifts can also offer both LPG forklifts and diesel forklifts. Diesel forklifts are typically used for materials handling and are tough and capable of handling the rigours of outdoor work. They have the advantage of being powered by a readily available kind of fuel. They are often preferred for use in harsh environments, including those that are wet and dirty. Meanwhile, the LPG forklift may be preferred over the diesel forklift because of a number of advantages, such as: lower initial investment, easy refueling, applicability for many different industries, and wide availability. On the other hand, LPG forklifts have some disadvantages, such as unpredictable fuel costs, need for additional operator training, and less maneuverability.

Meanwhile, for businesses that prefer to buy forklifts rather than rent them, Mars Forklifts also offers for sale both new and used forklifts. This can be gleaned from https://www.marsforklifts.com.au/sales/. Alex Conti, Workshop Manager at Mars Forklifts, says, ?If you are looking for high-quality yet used forklifts in Sydney, your search ends with Mars Forklifts ? Australia?s number one 2nd hand forklifts Sydney-based retailer. With over 300 units available for sale, we showcase a wide range of forklifts and scissor lifts.
