Patterson Pools, an award-winning and leading spa builder in Sydney, offers custom-designed spas and pools for the home. They will fully understand the specific desires and requirements of each client to come up with the final design of the spa or pool. Grant Patterson, owner of the Patterson Built brand, says, "At Patterson Pool Builders, we're all about building to last. We use only the highest quality materials and latest building technology to ensure your spa looks inviting but is also easy to maintain, giving you more time to relax and enjoy."

They are experts in crafting top-quality concrete swimming pools. Grant Patterson explains, "Specialising in high-end luxury concrete pools, we combine the latest technology with quality workmanship and exceptional customer service and are the leaders in our field offering superior technical expertise in all aspects of custom pool construction."

They also specialise in high-end luxury spas where they integrate the latest technology with exceptional customer service and quality craftsmanship. Whether the homeowner wants a one-of-a-kind custom design or collaborating with a landscaper or architect, or dealing with a particularly difficult space, Patterson Pools can make the homeowner's vision become a reality.

The Patterson Pools custom pool and spa builders can also provide plunge pools, which are small pools for the purpose of lounging and cooling off, instead of using them for swimming or other activities. Some homeowners may prefer plunge pools because of their unique advantage over the bigger swimming pools. Because they are much smaller, they may also be used as a hot tub in winter or a cool-down pool during summer. Plunge pools are preferred by homeowners who have a smaller area in their backyard and those who don't intend to swim in the pool but use it only for exercise.

Patterson Pools also specialises in high-end luxury in-ground pools, which are water-filled pools that are built permanently into the ground with the top of the pool flush with the lawn. For the purpose of landscape design, the in-ground pool is a more permanent design element of the landscape compared to the above-ground pool. This type of pool is a permanent structure that is built into the ground and then filled with water. The in-ground pool can be made using a range of materials, such as fibreglass, concrete, and vinyl.

They can also provide high-end pool renovations. Grant Patterson says, "Pool renovations require meticulous planning and execution. You can rest assured that with our award-winning team, your vision for your pool renovation will not only be met but far exceeded. Whether you're aiming to transform an existing pool with a completely unique design, are working with an architect or landscaper, have a challenging layout, or have a vision that you'd like to see materialise, Patterson Pools can make this a reality."

They can also provide landscaping and surrounds that are custom-fitted to the client's lifestyle. They will leverage their award-winning creativity and experiences to provide a tailor-fitted solution for the client. Grant Patterson says, "Whether you're dreaming of a completely unique custom design, collaborating with an architect, tackling a challenging terrain, or have a vision that you'd like to see actualized, Patterson Pools can make this a reality."

The Patterson Built brand is a family-owned business that was built from the ground up by Grant Patterson and his wife, Melanie. The couple launched the business from a small home office and used their own garage and yard for storing materials. It was Grant's goal to provide quality finishing and careful attention to detail that he used to gradually build the business on. They have more than 20 years of experience in providing architecturally designed custom homes, extensions, renovations, knock down rebuilds, commercial buildings, and pools throughout the Dural, Hawkesbury, Kenthurst, Hornsby, Blue Mountains, Hills, and neighbouring suburbs.

Those who are looking for a custom spa or pool builder in Sydney and surrounding areas can check out the Patterson Pools website or call them on the phone or contact via email.
