LA Pressure Wash Pros, a Baton Rouge, LA, pressure washing company, is proud to announce that it was recently chosen to clean the Old Governor's Mansion, a popular historic building in the heart of the city.

The Old Governor's Mansion was used as Louisiana's official gubernatorial residence between 1930 and 1963. Commissioned under the governorship of Huey Long, the building is reportedly inspired by the White House in Washington D.C. While some dispute the legend surrounding the mansion, it is said that Long wanted to be familiar with the White House when he became president. So, he had the White House duplicated in Baton Rouge.

LA Pressure Wash Pros has long been the trusted pressure washing services provider in Baton Rouge for many of its residents. Being selected to take on the job of cleaning the historic building, which is a part of the U.S. National Register of Historic Places, is just another feather in the cap of the Baton Rouge pressure washing company.

The company shared the announcement on its website by saying, "We recently cleaned the Old Governor's Mansion in Baton Rouge for the second year in a row! This is one of our favorite projects because of the history of this building and what it means to the local community. This cleaning utilized our Softwash system in order to kill off all organic growth on the building. We then proceeded to rinse off all of the organic matter in an effort to preserve the state of the building, while also bringing it back to its original glory. The state trusts us every year to do a great job cleaning one of the most historic buildings in the state, and we'd love the opportunity to service your property as well."
