

MD7 Jewelry Store Launches New Paloma Silver Earrings

December 21, 2015

December 21, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

MD7 Jewelry Store, a business in Rotterdam, The Netherlands, has announced that they have added a new line of Paloma silver earrings to their stock. They have a variety of items in their stock, many of which have been reduced in price for the upcoming holiday season, but these new earrings are already proving to be one of their bestselling items. Customers are encouraged to order theirs as soon as possible to be able to receive them in time for the holidays. The new earrings can be purchased through <http://www.md7jewelrystore.com/products/paloma-silver-earrings>.

"We love our new line of Paloma earrings and we're so happy to see our customers love them too," says Mirjam Dorn from MD7 Jewelry Store. "They are exquisitely made and one of their most unique features is that they are fully reversible, so people can either have a large or small stud showing. The earrings are made from high quality materials and really stand out with their sparkles."

An equally popular product is found in the Crown Thirza Earrings that can be seen at <http://www.md7jewelrystore.com/products/crown-thirza-earrings>. These sparkling earrings are shaped like crowns and make people look really festive. Since the Netherlands is also a monarchy, these earrings have been particularly popular in the home country, although they are available for shipment abroad as well.

The company has also announced that they are offering a surprise at checkout to each of their customer. While they have not revealed what this surprise is, essentially leaving it there as a teaser, it has certainly gathered quite a bit of attention. Interestingly, customers are playing along with the surprise element, by not revealing what their surprise was.

"I absolutely adore my new Paloma silver earrings," says Suzanne K. "I went in to buy some Christmas presents for my friends, but I ended up buying these for me. They are just stunning. And thank you so much for the little surprise you sent me way as well. I won't breathe a word about it."

Finally, the company encourages people to view their Delicia Sparkle Collection on
