Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. - Albany, GA would like to reach out to local residents who may be in search of a car accident lawyer. Professional legal assistance is never further than a single phone call away, and anyone may reach out today to start working on their claim.

The process of securing adequate compensation after a car accident can be difficult, thanks to insurance companies who are dedicated to ensuring that they part with as little of their money as possible ? if any. The Albany firm makes use of years of experience, combined with a deep understanding of the laws surrounding personal injury, to help their clients fight back and claim what is rightfully theirs.

?When you have been in a car accident, you do not want to leave your future in the hands of someone that is inexperienced,? says Kenneth S. Nugent P.C. ?You do not want to use a medical professional who is not familiar with the type of injuries you have sustained, and you do not want to use an attorney who does not have experience in this type of case. When hiring an auto accident attorney in Albany, you want to select a firm like Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C.?

There are clear reasons for this, the firm argues. For instance, they state that their team, "has the professionalism and experience necessary to represent you in an auto accident case. Insurance companies and their adjusters often overlook many important facts about an accident so that they do not have to pay out the fair amount on a claim. They are very pleased when they learn that an injured party does not have legal representation, because that means more money will remain in their coffers."

It is an unfortunate fact that insurance companies will often try to avoid offering compensation for lost wages, pain and suffering, property damage and half a dozen other factors that the victim is entitled to. Fortunately, it is the job of Albany auto accident attorneys to make sure that the rights of their clients are protected and that they receive a fair settlement for any damages they may have sustained during an auto accident.

The law is firmly on the side of auto accident victims who have been injured due to another individual or entity's negligence, and car accidents are almost always the result of some sort of negligence on the part of the offending driver. Failure to yield, reckless driving, cell phone use and intoxication are some of the more common negligent actions that have been known to result in motor accidents. A thorough review by one of the lawyers at Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. is all it would take to determine exactly how the other driver was at fault, following which this information could be used to secure financial compensation for the injured party.

Accidents, by their nature, happen at random and often inconvenient times. This is why it is important to always be prepared in the event of a motor accident and know exactly what to do when dealing with insurance companies. An insurance company will often get in touch almost immediately after an accident, but their goal will most likely be to protect their own interests. They may ask for statements and offer to repair the victim's car or even pay their medical bills, but this will likely be to avoid potentially having to pay much more if the victim had time to get their lawyers involved.

Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. advises Albany car accident victims to refuse these offers until they have spoken with an attorney. The firm says, "You should refrain from giving this statement or agreeing to any offers until you have spoken to an auto accident attorney in Albany. An attorney will make sure that your rights as a victim are protected. This includes making sure you receive all the necessary medical treatment for your injuries, and that your car is repaired with the right parts. In addition, an attorney can help determine if you are entitled to further damages such as recovery for loss of work, permanent disabilities or other related issues."

Car accidents have the potential to change lives in countless ways and have been known to take lives as well. Anyone may call the Albany car accident lawyer today to learn how the firm can help in the aftermath of such an event.
