November 14, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Australia's leading online pet pharmacy Scriptly is offering everything that customers need to keep their furry friends happy and healthy. More information can be found on its website at <https://scriptly.com.au/>.

Scriptly works with vets and other pet professionals to give buyers absolute confidence in the quality of its products and services. Whether customers are getting pet meds from the online store or seeking expert pet advice, Scriptly has a talented and experienced crew on board to offer the help and resources they need. To show its dedication to high-quality pet healthcare, the store only supplies veterinary products approved for sale in Australia by the APVMA (Australian Pesticides and Veterinary Medicines Authority).

"Our motto is pet care made simple," says the spokesperson for Scriptly, Mohit Gupta. "We take the stress out of being a pet parent with our user-friendly and affordable services. As an Australian-owned and operated business, you get to benefit from our years of experience in the pet pharmaceutical industry and get the same high-quality medications that you'll find at your vet, just at a much lower cost. We believe that instead of spending time taking your pet to the vet, you should be enjoying all the time you have with your furry friends who are yearning for your attention."

The store offers a range of flea, tick, and deworming medications for cats and dogs. Its inventory contains products from brands such as Milbemax, Advantage, Advocate, Bravecto, Capstar, Comfortis Plus, Frontline, Frontline Plus, Nexgard, Nexgard Spectra, Simparica, and Simparica Trio. The products are available for all breed sizes including giant, large, medium, and small. To browse through all the medications for dogs, visit <https://scriptly.com.au/collections/shop-all-for-dogs>.

For example, its Advantage Seresto flea and tick collar is an odorless and water-resistant collar that will keep pooches protected from fleas and ticks. It offers 8-month protection against fleas and 4-month protection against ticks. It is available in two units - one for dogs over 8 kg and another one for dogs and puppies under 8 kg. The store also offers NexGard Spectra monthly chews designed to give dogs complete protection from parasites. It is available in 4 different units - for dogs 3.6 to 7.5 kg, 7.6 to 15 kg, 15.1 to 30 kg, and dogs between 30.1 kg and 60 kg.

Scriptly also has several medications specifically for cats. Advocate (6-pack) for kittens and small cats offers easy application for monthly parasite protection from fleas, heartworms, intestinal worms, lungworms, ear mites, and feline mange mites. It is also available in a different version for cats over 4 kg.

The store also carries Revolution Plus for cats and kittens. The monthly topical treatment kills adult fleas while also controlling allergic dermatitis. It isn't greasy and becomes waterproof after two hours. The treatment is available in 3-packs and 6-packs for kittens from 1.25 to 2.5 kg, for cats between 2.5 and 5 kg, and for cats over 5 kg. The full catalog of medications for cats from Scriptly is available to be browsed through at <https://scriptly.com.au/collections/shop-all-for-cats>.

Scriptly has received great feedback from the community for the ease of use of its website and additional features, competitive pricing, and stellar customer service. A recent review says, "It was so fast and easy ordering my dog's medication through Scriptly. They also have the most competitive prices I've found." Another customer writes, "Scriptly prices are much more reasonable than what you'd find elsewhere, and the products are delivered straight to your door."

Australian pet owners can also sign up for Scriptly's membership which offers points for every dollar spent on the store. Creating an account is fast, easy, and free and members get access to exclusive offers and discounts on the store's most popular products. For the membership, 100 points equals $10.00. Readers are also urged to follow Scriptly for its soon-to-be-launched online eScript service that makes ordering prescriptions extremely easy.

Readers are urged to find out more about Scriptly's range of pharmaceutical products for cats and dogs by visiting its website.
