January 06, 2016 -
Perfectly Vivid, the producer of a popular tactical flashlight, has released a statement regarding the reliability of its product. The Coronado, California based company states that not only is their flashlight durable, but it also provides many hours of illumination, a fact that they say many other manufacturers cannot compete with.

Dr. Christopher Vogelmann, owner of the tactical flashlight company, states, "The Perfectly Vivid tactical flashlight offers 100,000 hours of lumen lighting. Its reliability is something to marvel at considering the size of the item." More about the benefits of the flashlight can be seen on the company's official website at http://perfectlyvivid.com/.

Dr. Vogelmann says that many customers have contacted them to praise the light that the small flashlight provides, and many of them are nighttime industrial maintenance workers, emergency personnel, and others who are out after dark and need adequate lighting.

He says that the illumination is just one reason customers are finding the flashlight so reliable, however. Its durability is another reason. "It can also withstand being run over by a car. So, you can feel safe knowing that this flashlight is a lasting investment, and will always provide you with the light that you need," states Dr. Vogelmann.

The company has been conversing with customers since the flashlight was first introduced a few weeks ago, and they have observed that sales has exploded, possibly due to the holiday shopping season. Dr. Vogelmann states that many find the flashlight as the perfect gift for those who need to venture out after dark, and want reliable illumination when they do so.

Perfectly Vivid offers a number of consumer products and their tactical flashlight has become their most popular item. The company states that there are a number of benefits to owning a reliable flashlight, and they believe that theirs is among the most durable and long lasting, given the lower than average cost when compared to similar items.

Those interested in learning more about the tactical flashlight, and keeping up with Perfectly Vivid and their future product releases, can visit and join the conversation on their official Facebook page, found at https://www.facebook.com/perfectlyvivid/?fref=ts. The company states that those interested should order quickly, as sales has been over the top since the product's initial release.
