Digital marketing agency owner Stephanie Solheim was featured in Ani Hoang?s podcast, which is focused on providing insights into digital marketing and entrepreneurship based on real results, people, and stories. This podcast features weekly interviews with successful marketers, content creators, and entrepreneurs to discover how they got to where they are and the kinds of marketing strategies that people can learn from them to grow their businesses and brands. The podcast also delves into how Stephanie is able to keep several businesses running while also ensuring she is able to handle her role as mother properly.

Stephanie Solheim is co-owner of the Toledo, OH-based digital marketing agency where she serves as the creative force. She steers the agency into achieving the appropriate mixture of creativity and excellence in helping local businesses find more leads and clients through the application of search engine optimization (SEO), web design, and conversion rate optimization. She is also the founder of Sisters in SEO, which is the biggest female SEO group and has more than 12,000 female digital marketers.

Stephanie says, ?I believe your business is only as strong as its weakest link. It?s incredibly fulfilling to be able to step into businesses struggling with marketing to help strengthen their business and take them to the next level. Helping local Toledo-based businesses and women-owned businesses is sort of my jam. During the pandemic, I helped over 40 women pivot their businesses so they could thrive during a time of intense change. I?m a strategic partner with Kari DePhillips in the Sisters In SEO Facebook Group where we talk all things SEO.?

In Ani Hoang?s podcast, which is titled The Aspiring CMO, Stephanie shares how she started to do SEO. She recalls how she got into social media and blogging and the natural evolution was to get involved in SEO for the purpose of getting more people to see the blog. The podcast discusses Stephanie?s various companies and groups; how to test different channels; how optimize social media channels; the realization that having simply a ton of content isn?t sufficient to win; the humanize algorithms; fun experience with the SEO community; balancing business and parenthood; and Stephanie?s crazy story.

Stephanie says, ?Speaking of SEO, I?m also really proud of the work I?ve done to build and cultivate SEO and digital marketing retreats. Every 6 months, the top global digital marketers and SEO pros get together for strategy discussions and secret swapping in one giant mansion. Mastermind Mansion is learning and fun mixed together. We consistently draw well-known professionals in the digital space, such as Craig Campbell, Kyle Roof, Ted Kubitis, Steve Toth, and Holly Starks."
