

AARC Host Agency Launch Of New Website

December 17, 2015

December 17, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

AARC Host Agency today announced the launch of a totally revamped FREE Travel School and e-learning educational site, for people who want to become a travel agent and open their own on-line travel agency.

Paul Davis, president of AARC said "AARC Host Agency has been deeply invested in travel agent education for more than 25 years. With exclusive services for travel agents like free travel agent ongoing training, free travel agent websites and free marketing to travel agent clients. AARC Host Agency's new Travel School is an education platform designed exclusively for travel agents that are just starting out in the travel industry."

The travel schools e-learning site's resource center provides access to valuable training, sales tools, free subscriptions to travel agent magazines, webinars, videos, and other assets designed to help new agents increase sales and commissions after they graduate. Agents also can utilize a central dashboard to review their course activity and track the status of their progress.

Sue Russo, General Manager of AARC host Agency said the Free Travel School e-learning is unique to the travel industry, in that it was designed and built specifically for the people new to the travel industry.

AARC Host Agency is confident that its easy-to-use, mobile-friendly site will help new agents gain the knowledge to earn great commissions and start their own online travel agency from home.

Launched in 1991, AARC travel school is accessible online 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Visit their website at: <http://HomeBasedTravelAgents.org>
