

Service Genius Earns Another Five Star Review for Heating Repair Service

December 01, 2023

Chatsworth, California - December 01, 2023 -
Service Genius Air Conditioning and Heating, a company based in Chatsworth, CA, takes pride in having received another five star review from a satisfied customer. The company is an HVAC contractor in Los Angeles and neighboring areas and can offer assistance with heater, air conditioner, or indoor air quality needs. Their licensed technicians always check on their work and ensure the air quality is up to standards and clients are able to maintain the type of indoor environment they want.

In the above-mentioned review, Ratana T. wanted to replace an old furnace that was installed back in the 80s and had stopped working. She said, ?Scheduling for the installation wasn?t hard and I get communications from Courtney on updates. The technicians Tony Escobar and Hector Ramos were nice and professional, arrived on time, and started working right away, and did a great job. I met William Monk after the installation was almost completed. He checked and inspected the installation, explained the process, how it works, the issues, and suggested preventative measures, and government guidelines to me. They have provided me with ease of mind, great customer service, and prompt in answering my questions. I am satisfied with their professional service and would recommend them to family and friends. Thank you William, Marquez, Courtney, Tony, and Hector for your services.?

William Monk, the Vice President of Service Genius Air Conditioning and Heating, shared his thoughts on the recent five-star review the company received, saying, "At Service Genius, our mission has always been to provide top-notch HVAC services with a focus on customer satisfaction. We understand the challenges homeowners face, especially in California, where home air con and heating maintenance are both essential and can be costly. This heartfelt review reaffirms our commitment to delivering excellence, even during tough times."

Monk continued, "We are incredibly proud of our team, from PM Marquez and Courtney, who ensure smooth communication and scheduling, to our skilled technicians like Tony Escobar and Hector Ramos, who go above and beyond to provide professional and efficient installations. It's heartwarming to know that our efforts have made a meaningful difference in our customer's life, especially during challenging times."

He concluded, "Service Genius will always be here to provide reliable and prompt air conditioning repair service and solutions, ensuring our customers' comfort and peace of mind. We are deeply grateful for the trust our customers place in us and will continue to uphold the high standards that have earned us reviews like this one.?

Service Genius Air Conditioning and Heating offers 24-hour heating repair service for heat pumps and furnaces from all major brands. With the winter season approaching, homeowners can rely on them to provide same day and emergency heater repair in Los Angeles for all kinds of electric and gas furnaces, boilers, and heat pumps. They can also help homeowners avoid future emergencies with their heaters through their preventive maintenance service. A furnace or heater that has not been regularly checked and maintained properly is likely to break down suddenly. Thus, they recommend scheduling an inspection and tune up for the heater or furnace before the winter season to avoid unexpected breakdowns.
