Auckland, New Zealand - A majority of households have young children who are known to be wondrous roamers. Door stops are considered important to reduce the risk of any accidents involving the children that may occur because of swinging doors.

SuperiorMaker's standard door stops may help to regulate the flow of traffic within a household, because they can be used to eliminate the constant opening and shutting of doors. This ultimately reduces the dangerous risk of children being harmed by a slamming door while they play. Children can either be hit by a slamming door or even suffer an unpleasant injury to their fingers if ever caught in a slammed door.

SuperiorMaker door stops are made of high quality natural rubber. This material used to create these door stops allow for them to fit and securely fasten any door no matter the size whilst causing no damages to the meticulous type of flooring that may be in place.

The door stops are believed to be durable and long-lasting, they are also packaged conveniently in a 4 pack. The door stops have been lauded by a number of shoppers since being released on Amazon.

?The doorstops work very well, they are made of rubber will grabs well on our hardwood floors as well as the concrete floor in our basement. The door stops are black and work with any décor. I am very pleased with this purchase, the doorstops allow me less aggravation while I am trying to move things from room to room,? stated Michelle Reus, a verified Amazon reviewer.

SuperiorMaker?s non-scratching door stops are available on Amazon. They are backed by a lifetime 100 percent money back guarantee on every purchase if for some reason a customer may not be satisfied. Customers who order now will have the opportunity to gain an added incentive of two free homecare eBooks.
