

Printing And Design Holiday Specials Announced At City Wide Printing Hub

December 15, 2023

December 15, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Following their recent rebrand (from Colony 123 Quick Print), East Orange, NJ based City Wide Printing Hub is pleased to announce a special promotional offer as part of its comprehensive rebranding initiative. Aligning itself with top-tier service providers, City Wide Printing Hub offers a wide array of printing solutions, catering to a diverse clientele who seek high-quality personal, commercial and promotional print products.

To celebrate their new brand identity, City Wide Printing Hub is offering customers a limited-time discount of 15% on all of their services, applicable only to orders exceeding $100. The promotion is valid until the 26th of December, 2023 and is an opportunity for customers, both new and old, to experience City Wide Printing Hub's new and enhanced range of services at a much friendlier investment.

The company's services include custom business cards, vibrant flyers, eye-catching posters and a variety of other print materials. Every one of the products City Wide Printing Hub puts out is designed with the utmost attention to quality and detail, with the goal being total customer satisfaction. From design to production and delivery, City Wide Printing Hub strives to ensure that the process is seamless and efficient, capitalizing on the latest in printing technology and design trends to produce great work quickly.

City Wide Printing Hub is committed to providing affordable, top quality solutions along with unmatched customer service, and the special promotion they are running is evidence of this commitment. Businesses, individuals and organizations are invited to take advantage of City Wide Printing Hub's offer. It is an opportunity to experience the excellent quality of service that has made City Wide Printing Hub one of the most well-known names in the industry.

The printing industry has evolved in many ways, including the sheer creativity of some of the designers that are currently active in the field. Every company has access to a designer and printer with the skills, technology and creative ability to produce beautiful custom-made print media. The standards around any form of printed materials have gone up significantly over the years and this means business cards, flyers and other printed company materials will not stand out unless an expert designer and printer goes the extra mile.

City Wide Printing Hub's creative design services take some of the most experienced, most creative and most talented experts in the field and focus their abilities on the creation of high quality, original pieces of print for each and every customer. In turn, this makes a customer's orders catch the eye and turn heads no matter what purpose it is meant to serve.

In addition to offering quality print, City Wide Printing Hub has made a commitment to making the process of actually getting printed materials to customers as easy as possible.

A number of customers have left great reviews of the company. One rave review posted prior to the company's rebranding says, "As a realtor, I am in regular need of business cards. I would like to thank you for the artistic work you undertook for printing cards for my real estate business. I appreciate your professional service and fast delivery. Colony 123 Quick Print online printing facility surely does away with all hassles involved in conventional printing."

City Wide Printing Hub aims to continue delivering this same, great service for years to come, and they look forward to working with customers who sign up to take advantage of the ongoing promotion.
