January 12, 2024

Highlands Ranch, Colorado - January 12, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Custom Soap Colorado, a company based in Douglas County, CO, is happy to announce that they have launched their new website. The fully redesigned website is expected to offer a better user experience for business users to get the relevant information they need to place their bulk custom soap orders. Custom Soap Colorado specializes in private-label manufacturing, providing a wide range of products and services tailor-fitted to the brand's requirements.

Soap Master Creighton, owner of Custom Soap Colorado, says, "We're happy and excited to have launched our new website, which has been completely redesigned to offer better site visitor experience. We expect businesses who require our products and services to find it easier to place their bulk custom soap orders."

Custom Soap Colorado doesn't just produce custom soap for hotels, they also make thousands of soap bars for private label soap, bulk soap, custom soap, custom scent blends, wholesale, and private label shaving soap.

Custom Soap Colorado offers various kinds of extrusion soap products. These include private-label shampoo, private-label syndet soap, private-label shave soap, private-label guest amenities, and solid shampoo manufacturing line. Private-label shampoos are products that they produce and can be sold under the brand name of the business making the bulk order. It is important to note that the formulation of the private label solid shampoos can be adjusted to comply with the specific needs and preferences of the customer. Meanwhile, solid shampoo is gaining popularity because they are highly concentrated and can last longer than liquid shampoo.

They can also provide private label syndet soap. Once again, businesses purchasing the soap from Custom Soap Colorado can sell them under their own brand name. Companies can create their brand of skincare products by specifying the specific amount for each ingredient. In such a way, a company can offer soap with certain characteristics, such as moisturizing properties, gentle cleansing, and suitability for certain skin types.

Custom Soap Colorado also produces hot-pour soap

, which enables the creation of custom soapy bars that cater to certain preferences. This enables businesses to convert simple ingredients into fragrant and vibrant soap bars, with the option to add certain popular additives and scents. They are offering a range of oils and supplies to help businesses get started. With Custom Soap Colorado, businesses can offer stable and lasting soaps. Their hot pour services include private-label conditioner manufacturing, alternative shave products, private label melt and pour soap manufacturing, and solid conditioner manufacturing lines.

Private-label conditioner bars are quite popular among businesses trying to create their own branded hair care products. Like solid shampoo bars, these solid conditioners are gaining in popularity. They require less packaging, which means they are more eco-friendly and tend to be less expensive because they last longer than liquid conditioners.

Meanwhile, they also offer the melt and pour shaving soap, which offers the advantage of providing a moisturizing and smooth shaving experience. This alternative shaving product does not need to be whipped in a mug with a brush and it is not provided in an aerosol can that is not allowed to pass through by the TSA.

The private-label melt-and-pour soap bar manufacturing process offers a great way for businesses to make their soap. This involves melting pre-made soap bases, adding the preferred scents and ingredients, and then pouring them into molds.

Founded in 2006 as Rocky Mountain Body Works & Co, the company has been renamed Custom Soap Colorado. It is doing business as Custom Soap Colorado although it still operates as Rocky Mountain Body Works & Co. Currently, its focus is manufacturing custom products as requested by businesses who plan to resell the soap products.
