Chris Dietz from Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. says, ?The loss of a loved one is hard enough to grapple with, but when it happens suddenly and due to another party?s negligence, the emotional toil can be amplified even more. It is only human to feel sorrow and pain, and many times anger, when a loved one has been taken away unexpectedly. Our team of lawyers understands how you feel, and we are here for you. Though it can be hard to find and consult with a lawyer, especially when the loss is fresh, taking the step early can be helpful to your case and needs.?

As the law firm explains, surviving family members have many obstacles to face, not least of all the heavy costs associated with any emergency medical treatment, funeral expenses and so on. These financial hardships are often exacerbated if the deceased person was their main income earner. While the family focuses on getting through this difficult period, however, the lawyers at Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. can begin looking into the circumstances that lead to the untimely death.

Dietz says, ?We can never replace what you have lost. That is simply not possible. But our legal team can help you begin to pick up the pieces and shoulder the burdens you will face because of the loss. We can give you legal guidance along the way and ensure that you are able to take the right steps to seek justice and compensation.?

Should the death have been caused by an act of negligence, the firm explains, survivors have specific rights to compensation under the law. It is very important for family members to contact an attorney as soon as possible after the event occurs because it is easiest to gather evidence when the search can start right away. Researching the incident while it is still fresh in the memories of any and all parties involved is the best way to ensure ideal results.

If the death was a result of an accident, the law firm?s investigators can return to the scene to photograph and document evidence. Everything, from weather conditions and roadway conditions to occupant kinematics ? the study of how a body responds to impact in an accident ? will be carefully reviewed to determine responsibility. If the death was caused as a result of other actions, such as medical malpractice, an investigation into all associated records will be conducted, and experts will be consulted to review the findings. The firm?s goal is to help those suffering in the most professional and thorough manner possible.

The law firm has earned a great reputation among their clients in Duluth and beyond, as evidenced by their glowing reviews. One piece of client feedback comments, ?Eric, in Duluth, GA, was amazing during the whole process! He went to bat for me big time. He blew my expectations out of the water, to the point, I think, it caught both of us off guard. We settled a little less than double what we both originally thought and agreed what would be fair. He is a truly genuine person. He was honest with me and listened to my requests or concerns the entire way. Would recommend him to anyone in a heartbeat! Thank you so much for your help, Eric!?
