

New York Co Living Company SharedEasy Announces Virtual Tours For Interested Guests

December 28, 2023

December 28, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

SharedEasy, a company offering guests ready-to-move-in coliving homes in New York, has announced that it has launched virtual tours for those interested in exploring its properties. For more information visit sharedeasy.club.

Born out of the vision to create a simple, hassle-free solution to living in big cities, SharedEasy has eliminated the stress of the rental process while providing high-quality living spaces centered around the community. Each home is equipped with beautiful furniture, designer touches, comfy beds, and spacious rooms and bathrooms to make all visitors, no matter how long or short their stay is, feel comfortable and at home.

"Coliving is the wave of the future and the solution to renting and living in the big city," says the spokesperson for SharedEasy. "Since our homes are built around the concept of communal living, residents share not only the living spaces but also intentions, values, ideas, and interests. The commune enables our guests to come together and learn from the experiences of others, make new friends, and discover new passions that would be impossible if they were living alone. Now, with our virtual tours, you get to experience our homes before moving in, wherever you might be to see what awaits you when you land in NYC. Find out more by visiting SharedEasy's LinkedIn."

SharedEasy's coliving homes are suitable for a wide range of guests arriving in New York City. Whether they are interning at a new and exciting workplace, renting a room near their favorite summer attractions, interested in corporate housing, seeking temporary housing while they work on their startups, moving houses between leases, searching for a short-term apartment rental, looking for an alternative to university dorms, or studying at any of the city's prestigious colleges such as NYFA (New York Film Academy) and Columbia University, SharedEasy invites all guests to apply and find a friendly community ready to invite them with open arms.

Guests at SharedEasy pay an all-inclusive fee that does not include a hefty security deposit, hookup fees, application fees, or broker's fees while including utilities and amenities ensuring there are no surprises when it comes time to pay. The company offers flexible short-term and long-term leases and guests can move in or move out any day of the month. SharedEasy also provides unlimited access to hundreds of gyms in all five boroughs of New York as well as free unlimited membership to more than 15 beautiful coworking spaces in Brooklyn and Manhattan.

Several students, professionals, entrepreneurs, and freelancers have praised SharedEasy for offering attractive yet affordable housing options in New York City. The reviews they have shared have been highlighted on SharedEasy's website in which they thank the property management company for clean and fully furnished apartments, the helpful crew members who quickly respond to service requests, and the flexibility of the bookings.

One guest writes, "This was an amazing stay and a stay I'll never forget. The space was awesome, the faculty and staff were so considerate and responsive and this is the place in my move to NYC that I made my first real connections. Thanks for all of that. Shoutout the Kijuan and Melanie for going above and beyond the entire time to make sure my stay was the best it could be."

Another guest says, "I had a huge different co-living experience, and I should say this one is the best. The house is really huge, with its reeeeeeeaaaally big bedrooms, everything you need in it from kitchen supplies to bedsheets, high-speed internet which was really nice since I am a freelancer and work mostly from home, comfortable furniture and of course very nice people. The company offers a weekly cleaning service which is great. Imagine you're coming home and it's clean. Haha. Very nice people in the house. I got no issues but was promised if anything happened it would have been solved right away."

Readers can contact the NYC property management company at questions@sharedeasy.club or (929) 575-5792 for inquiries or follow SharedEasy's Instagram for news and updates.

###

For more information about SharedEasy, contact the company here: SharedEasyValentyn Rehbinder+1 929-575-5792 questions@sharedeasy.club 10 Manhattan Ave, New York, NY 10025, United States

SharedEasy

SharedEasy offers affordable, fully furnished coliving spaces in NYC. With free utilities, weekly cleaning, and a like-minded community, it's easy to feel at home. Whether you're a student, traveler, or professional, SharedEasy is your solution in NYC.

Website: <https://sharedeasy.club/>

Email: questions@sharedeasy.club

Phone: +1 929-575-5792

Powered by PressAdvantage.com