Westminster, CO based Sculpted MD is pleased to invite men to learn about testosterone replacement therapy following their recent grand opening. The newly opened medical weight loss clinic offers a wide array of services, and testosterone replacement is one of many ways in which Sculpted MD seeks to improve the health of its patients.

As men grow older, their bodies begin to produce less testosterone, leading to a number of negative effects. Hypogonadism, otherwise known as low testosterone, affects men of all ages and causes fatigue, sleep problems, weight gain, muscle loss and a long list of other symptoms. The condition can be treated, however, and Sculpted MD is one of the top clinics for testosterone replacement therapy in the region.

“Ultimately, low testosterone levels are linked to many cardiovascular issues and risks,” says the clinic. “According to the Harvard Medical School, hormone testosterone replacement therapy can help to widen coronary arteries. This can be helpful to men with angina or other heart-related issues. This also reduces their risk of heart attack or stroke. Testosterone naturally can cause red blood cell counts to rise, which is great for those with anemia.”

They add, “Also, reaching optimal levels of testosterone through hormone replacement therapy can decrease fat and increase strength and muscle size. In one study of men over 65, not only did these patients decrease their fat content, they had an increase in lean mass overall.”

Treatment has been proven to be an effective treatment for many of the symptoms associated with hypogonadism. People who undergo the treatment report feeling more fulfilled, active and healthy. Treatments for low testosterone come in many forms, including patches, gel and injections. Westminster residents who may be experiencing symptoms associated with low testosterone are encouraged to visit Sculpted MD and speak to the clinic’s professional team about some of the treatment options that are available. Testosterone replacement therapy is generally relatively harmless. However, there are some risks associated with the therapy. Some men may experience increased acne, for instance, or increased risk of blood clots, worsened sleep apnea and even decreased sperm production.

The risks are uncommon, but at Sculpted MD, they believe in making sure that each patient is fully aware of all the risks associated with testosterone replacement therapy. This is the only way to guarantee they can make informed decisions about their care.

Sculpted MD says, "Our licensed, training and professional low testosterone physicians in Denver can accurately analyze your testosterone levels and decide if certain replacement treatments will help restore your vigor. There are various treatment options available whether hormone therapies or total replacement. The physicians at our clinic work with each patient to identify and to treat their low testosterone condition. Testosterone replacement therapy can be administered in many ways. Most patients will begin the process with transdermal application routes with a gel that is applied to the skin every day at the same time. Injection therapy in Denver is another option, which injects the hormone weekly or bi-monthly."

After starting testosterone replacement therapy, patients generally begin to experience improvements in their energy, libido and sexual ability within a few weeks. Optimal results are generally known to occur within three to six months of beginning treatment.

Sculpted MD is among the best full service health spas in Colorado. A vast array of services and products are available here, of which testosterone replacement therapy is just one. Sculpted MD also offers hormone balancing, medical weight loss, cosmetic fillers and a range of other therapies, treatments and products.

Sculpted MD also believes in holistic treatment. Their healthy living experts look at the root cause of every issue a patient presents and seek to treat it directly as opposed to merely treating the symptoms. Their approach to weight loss, for example, seeks to help the patient understand what is causing them to gain weight or preventing them from losing weight.

Once a patient understands the reasons behind their inability to lose weight, they are more likely to lose weight and keep it off, especially with professional help. Other weight loss specialists have been known to simply provide their patients with diet pills "which cause rapid weight loss that is, more often than not, completely unsustainable. Sculpted MD takes a healthier, more rounded approach.
