December 14, 2023

December 14, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Kansas City, KS ? Eyecare Specialties is excited to welcome Dr. Kelsey Starman, O.D., to their Lee?s Summit and Warrensburg offices. Located at 652 SE Blue Pkwy, Lee?s Summit, MO 64063 and 601 E Russell Ave Ste A, Warrensburg, MO 64093, she will be supporting both clinics in Kansas City. She specializes in general care and vision therapy, and is particularly adept at treating strabismus, amblyopia, and binocular vision.

?We are excited to welcome Dr. Starman to the Eyecare Specialties team and highly anticipate her fine work? said Dr. Susan Lake, founder and owner of Eyecare Specialties. ?As a full-scope eye care practice, it?s important that we keep improving our service catalog and exploring new ways to deliver the best service possible to our patients. Dr. Starman is a bright, compassionate eye doctor who brings a wealth of experience to the practice, and we?re thrilled to have her join us. With her on the team, we're excited about the future of eye care here.?

Eyecare Specialties is equipped to handle both routine and advanced eye care concerns, including diseases like glaucoma, diabetes, and age-related macular degeneration. Vision therapy expands the range of treatment options available for other conditions that the Warrensburg and Lee?s Summit can now comprehensively cover, including traumatic brain injuries, neurological conditions, and eye misalignment disorders.

?There is something special about helping people who feel like they haven?t been listened to or that they?ve already exhausted all their available options,? said Dr. Starman. ?People will come to us experiencing dizziness, headaches, visual fatigue, and a general inability to function properly on a daily basis. We want to show these patients that recovery is possible. It?s the aspect of the job that keeps pushing me to do better.?

Dr. Starman is an academically gifted eye doctor who has dealt with her own vision problems, which is part of what spurred her onward to optometry school and ultimately a career as an eye doctor. She graduated from Rockhurst University with a bachelor's degree in biochemistry and physics of medicine before receiving her Doctor of Optometry from Nova Southeastern College of Optometry. After graduating, she completed a residency in binocular vision at Wow Vision Therapy.

Eyecare Specialties is a practice that is well-suited to Dr. Starman's approach to medicine, which is thorough, accurate, patient oriented.

"We select our team, in part, on their ability to relate to patients and keep them informed about their care," said Dr. Lake, "and one thing that has become clear about Dr. Starman is her ability to do both. We are the eye care practice that people visit when they can't figure out what's wrong. They arrive scared and frustrated, so compassion and honesty are very important aspects of our care we provide."

Eyecare Specialties is currently accepting new patients. To schedule a vision therapy candidacy screen or an annual exam, give them a call at (816) 839-7622.
