December 23, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

CrazyBulk, a business in Lewes, DE, has announced that they have launched a new bodybuilding nutrition product range through their store. The product line is designed to help those completing a bodybuilding workout, ensuring they get the maximum results. The product line is already being positively received.

"The new CrazyBulk line of products is flying off the shelves," says Alexey Volkov from CrazyBulk. "We have included D-Bal, TestoMax, Decaduro and T-Bal75 to our new range and we're really happy to see that so many people are already agreeing that these are bodybuilding supplements that work. For us, the important thing is that they not only work but that they are completely safe as well."

CrazyBulk is a store that offers a number of different products. They specialize in bodybuilding and strength training, and all their products are designed to support this. The new supplement that is in stock has a primary focus on muscle building, but also on bulking and cutting lean muscle retention and strength and performance.

According to CrazyBulk, the products have been designed to mimic the effects of illegal anabolic steroids such as Dianabol, Deca-Durobolin and Clenbuterol, but it has been observed that these effects were obtained in a completely safe and legal manner. This means that the negative side effects normally associated with taking steroids are not present. These supplements have been developed to promote natural growth and strength in bodybuilders and strength trainers.

The new product range has already been very positively received. "I have been on crazy bulk bulking stack for a month now," says Michael. "My goal was to increase strength and put on some weight. With the help of Crazy Bulk I was able to do just that. I went from 217 lbs to 225 lbs in just a month. My bench press increased from 245 to 315 in just a month. My body fat was at 33% and now it is down to 30%, all thanks to Crazy Bulk and working out 6 days a week. I am 41 years old and have never had results like these with any other supplements."

The company has also released a YouTube video on <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=49LRsiqp0p4> to provide further details about their new line of products.
