London, England - January 04, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The Ultimate Flooring Company, based in the UK, is offering customers a free site survey if they are interested in the company's flooring services. Customers are also assured a free quotation from the veteran flooring team prior to the launch of any job.

"When you want to elevate the ambiance of your home or business," states The Ultimate Flooring Company, "you want to know about all of your options before you make any commitments. Many believe this is the best approach to take ? to learn as much as possible about the opportunities at your disposal before taking any significant steps ? and we happen to agree. That's why you'll find we are always ready to have a frank discussion regarding any plans for your property, and you will never have to proceed without knowing how much it may cost or what else is needed for a successful installation.?"

A variety of flooring options are available at The Ultimate Flooring Company, including all manner of wood, laminate, and vinyl. Customers can expect to find products from the top suppliers around the world here, complementing the company's exacting standards of service. Further, the company makes it a point to stay as competitive as possible, offering custom solutions for supply, installation, and renovation to every customer no matter how large or complicated their project may be.

The Ultimate Flooring Company cordially invites customers to visit their showroom in Richmond upon Thames, London to view their full range of products. Since the company exclusively works with the world's best suppliers, they are able to offer a Product Guarantee (up to 25 years) on selected products, and this is backed by a generous 2-year guarantee on workmanship. This is possible thanks to their 25+ years of experience in the industry, experience which is evident in every job they take on.

The priority the company places on the overall customer experience, the high standards they hold every team member to, and the results they are consistently able to achieve have received a great deal of praise from the community at large. One customer says, "Second time I have used Ultimate Flooring. They did a first class job that really looks good. They extended the area we had covered nine years ago, and the new wood is fully compatible with the old, which tells you how well the quality lasts. They fitted in with a tight rebuild schedule, which really helped. We will be using them again."

This is by no means the only five-star review of The Ultimate Flooring Company. Many reviews mention the quality of their products and workmanship, and customers particularly appreciate how easily and swiftly the team is able to make recommendations that fit a project's scope and budget.

Many who search online for a fitting service may be under the impression that their only course of action is to replace their existing flooring. However, this is not necessarily the case, and the company says it is often possible to renovate wood flooring, restoring it to its former glory. In fact, this service happens to fall among the company's specialties – repair, sanding, and rejuvenation of a customer's current floors are a significant part of their flooring restoration services.

"No project is too big or too small," assures The Ultimate Flooring Company. "If your wood flooring needs a minor refresh or requires a complete restoration, you can leave it in our team's capable hands. Expect them to give you every opportunity to describe what your expectations are, and they will work closely with you over the course of a restoration to ensure your objectives are met."

Notably, the company confirms that there will be no telltale signs of a restoration once their work is done. Every part of the floor will meld with its counterparts flawlessly, giving it the same impact it had when it was brand new.

The Ultimate Flooring Company advises customers to get in touch via email or over the phone if they wish to learn more about the company's services. Alternatively, they can visit the showroom in Richmond upon Thames, London to take a look at the products on offer or speak with a knowledgeable member of the team.
